

'The Red Mullah' Not In Red Camp

EDITOR'S NOTE: Journeying 6 days by car, tractor and horseback, Russian-speaking AP correspondent, Alex Efty and photographer James Pringle reached a Kurdish territory in northern Iraq. There they became among the first Western newsmen to interview Mullah Mustafa Barzani, chief of the Kurdish rebels. He has been called "The Red Mullah" because of his long exile in the Soviet Union. But he sheds some new light on his ideas about the Communists.

By ALEX EFTY
Noradin, Northern Iraq (AP)—A rifle lay on the window sill next to Mullah Mustafa Barzani, the Kurdish rebel chief. He fondled a long dagger and sounded impatient with Iraq's new revolutionary regime.

MULLAH BARZANI

sem may befall Iraq's new leaders, he added.
Barzani spoke in fluent Russian, learned in 12 years of exile in the Soviet Union. He often is called "The Red Mullah" but he made it appear as though little Soviet communism had rubbed off on him.

Don't Listen
His people, he said, pay no attention to Soviet Bloc broadcasts calling on them to unite with Iraqi Communists against the government in Baghdad.

"The Communists did not help us in the past and we do not need their help now," he said.
The 60-year-old chief claimed that his 18-month rebellion in northern Iraq was responsible for the overthrow of Kassem Feb. 8. And he warned:

"A similar, if not worse, fate will befall anyone else who opposes the establishment of an autonomous Kurdish regime."

Cease-Fire
He said he ordered a cease-fire when Kassem was overthrown to give the new revolutionary regime a chance to declare itself on the Kurdish issue.

"I gave them 10 days. Those days are over. I am not prepared to wait indefinitely," he said.

(In Baghdad, Barzani's special emissary, Jela Talibani, wound up the first state of negotiations and said he received no definite answer from the government on self-rule for the Kurds. He said, however, the government recognized the Kurds are a nation and have national rights. He flew back to northern Iraq saying Barzani would decide whether to continue with the talks.)

Will Continue
"We hope to achieve our rights by peaceful means—if not our revolution will continue," Talibani said.)

As leader of the Kurdish Democratic Party, Barzani rules over several thousand square miles of rugged countryside.
"We are stronger than ever now," he said. "I have not counted the soldiers as there are two million Kurds and all our people could be soldiers if we need them."

He sat in an armchair by a window overlooking the village. Two bandoliers of rifle bullets wound around his waist. A revolver was snug against his hip.

A Red turban rested jauntily on his head, topping his Kurdish national costume—a cross-button jacket with wide bell-bottom pantaloons of gray-striped wool.

About 15 staff officers of the Kurdish army and members of his personal bodyguard stood about the room.

Barzani scoffed at a Baghdad proposal that the Kurdish question should be threshed out at a conference of all political parties and racial groups in Iraq.

Recognition
"All that is needed is for the government to recognize the Kurdish people and give them the right to administer their own affairs. Then we can go ahead and have a conference," he said.

"We want to live together with the new Baghdad government. Let them recognize our rights, and then we can agree to talk with them like reasonable people."

Barzani's forces appear to be in control of all the highlands north of a line from Kirkuk to Sailemnia—a wedge of northern Iraq about 170 miles long and about 50 miles wide—except for main towns and a half dozen beleaguered Iraqi army garrisons.

E. Germans Need Socialist Bardot

Berlin (UPI)—Wanted: A Communist Brigitte Bardot. Like the real thing, she must be pretty, young and shapely. But in addition, she must "reflect the socialist way of life."

Also it will help if she is familiar with the doctrines of East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht and the ideas of scientific socialism.

A call for an East German version of the French film star was sounded Friday by an East German script writer in Sonntag, a weekly cultural newspaper.

Need Star
Screen writer Hans Oliva Hagen said the Soviet zone film industry "needs a star who attracts audiences like Bardot."

"If we had a Bardot who reflected the socialist way of life of our people and all youth associated itself with her I would be very happy," he said.

Just how does a Bardot go about reflecting the socialist way of life?

Hagen gave a few tips.

Adopt Motto
In the first place it is necessary to adopt the motto of chief of state Ulbricht—"to think is the first duty of a citizen."

Another duty is to follow the Communist Party's command and "occupy oneself with the ideas of scientific socialism."

With this background the East German Bardot will have all she needs. It will not be necessary for her to have opinions on everything that comes up.

Party Tells
"The party tells me what I have to know," said Hagen.

Getting a girl as pretty as Bardot could be a problem for the East Germans. Visitors to East Germany always are struck by the scarcity of beauties, compared to West Germany.

Many pretty girls have fled to the West.
For example, Marlene Schmidt, Miss Universe of 1961, was a refugee in 1960.

Weather Will Be Less Warm

The weather will be not quite so warm in Lincoln Saturday. The high is forecast to be in the upper 40s. Lincoln's high Friday was 55.

Beatrice was the warmest in the state Friday, with 57 recorded there. The state low was 21 at Omaha.

Fire Damages Office In Omaha Building

Omaha (AP)—Fire which broke out in a small storeroom caused serious damage to the office of the Lutheran Children's Service on the sixth floor of the Kilpatrick Building in downtown Omaha Friday night.

Smoke, heat and water damaged the entire office although the flames were confined to the storeroom.

8-Year-Old Girl Injured When Truck Hits Her

An 8-year-old Lincoln girl was released from Bryan Memorial Hospital after being treated for injuries she suffered when hit by a panel truck Friday.

The girl, Carol L. Inness, daughter of William C. Inness of 6827 Leighton, ran in front of a panel truck driven by James McMurtry, 39, of 2402 No. 70th, police said.

Ban Treaty Talks Hit 'Zero Point'

Geneva (AP)—Negotiations to ban nuclear weapons tests seemed headed Friday night toward collapse despite recent hopes that the Cuban settlement could point the way to a breakthrough. All sides talked of failure after a day of fruitless debate.

Less than 3 weeks after the new round of talks opened Feb. 12, the Soviet Union slammed the door on any detailed negotiations for a treaty as long as the West rejects the Soviet offer of two or 3 annual on-site inspections.

Soviet Ambassador Semyon K. Tsarapkin's statement and the departure of the top-ranking American and Russian negotiators appeared to bring the 4½-year-old talks to the verge of collapse. A neutral delegate told newsmen the talks "are at zero point."

Unfortunate
William C. Foster, the American negotiator, said "we want to negotiate. Unfortunately, we have found that thus far the Soviet Union does not."

Foster returns to Washington Saturday, but will be ready to come back to Geneva if there is any evidence of a change in the atmosphere.

"At the moment, he can accomplish more in Washington than in Geneva," an American source said.
Foster's Soviet counterpart, First Deputy Minister Vassily V. Kuznetsov, flew back to Moscow.

Could Do Harm
Tsarapkin told the conference that detailed discussions of administrative, technical or financial questions could result "in nothing but harm" as long as there is no agreement on the main question of inspection.

Foster told the conference the West could make no commitment on the number of on-site inspections to check on suspected treaty violations without knowing what the Soviet Union understood by inspection.

He stressed that the United States and Britain remain flexible on the number of inspections, "as long as we know that a number of inspections, once agreed, can effectively be carried out."

Prove It
He disputed the Soviet claim that all earth tremors can be identified without any inspection at all. He chal-

A baby albino kangaroo looks out of the pouch of his mother in Sydney, Australia. These albino kangaroos, known as ghosts, are being raised by Sir Edward Hallstrom. Twelve years ago, Sir Edward was given an albino. He bred for 9 years before an albino offspring was born. Now he has 50 albino kangaroos in his private 38-acre sanctuary at Mona Vale, Sydney.

SPEEDING BUS FLIPS, BURNS; 64 ARE KILLED

Guatemala (AP)—An overcrowded bus speeding to a fair turned over and burned Thursday, killing 64 persons including 16 children, police said.

The driver, who was seriously hurt, was accused of drunken driving and speeding.

Twelve other persons were hurt in the crash and 10 escaped injury. The bus had a capacity of 60.

Law Frustrates Snoopy Britons

Edinburgh, Scotland, (AP)—The beautiful Duchess of Argyll said unprintable things about the duke in court Friday. The duke had previously spent 3 days saying unprintable things about her.

What they said the world may never know. The testimony in divorce cases, under British law, is unprintable.

For devotees of the gossip columns, it is the worst case of frustration since King Edward VIII was courting Wallie Simpson 3 decades ago. British newspapers voluntarily kept quiet on that one. The royal family, you know.

Handcuffed
As for the Argyll divorce case, the papers are ready, willing, eager—and legally handcuffed.

The duke filed his divorce action in November, 1959. He alleged that his duchess had shared the beds of at least 3 other men.

The Tops
She was the Mrs. Sweeney mentioned in the lyrics of the Cole Porter hit "You're The Tops."

The duke and duchess were married in 1951. It was his 3rd marriage, her 2nd.

Because of British legal restrictions, only the bare bones of divorce actions may be published at the time they are being heard. At one state in a protracted series of law suits that followed the filing of the duke's petition, the duchess brought a counter-petition. She alleged that he committed adultery with her stepmother, 48-year-old Mrs. Jane Whigham. The duchess later dropped the case.

State Senators Kill License Plate ReflectORIZATION Bill

A bill to require the reflectorization of Nebraska license plates was killed in the Legislature Friday. The 23-12 axing of LB178 occurred as the measure rested on select file, idle point on the floor path to final passage. The bill previously had survived its committee test and had won approval on general file in its first test on the floor.

Sen. Dale Payne of Papillion moved to kill.

He said the reflectorization of license plates would cost a minimum of $1.5 million, and more likely $2 million, over the next 10 years.

More Effective
Matched with federal funds, this money could supply from $3 to $4 million and could hard surface from 150 to 200 miles of Nebraska highway.

Improvement of the road system would be more effective as a safety step, he said.

More than a half dozen senators made floor speeches, most of them in support of the bill motion.

Sen. Elvin Adamson of Nelz said there is nothing under present law which prohibits reflectorization of the plates. All the Department of Motor Vehicles needs to do is to convince the Budget committee and the Legislature that the appropriation is warranted and it can go ahead with the project.

Adamson termed the bill another attempt to administer through legislation, and suggested the department should go through the regular appropriation channels.

Unanimous Consent
Before killing the bill, lawmakers gave unanimous consent to withdrawal of an offered amendment under which the costs of reflectorization, but not to exceed 25 cents, would be added to the cost of the plates when issued.

The tortured LB178 had been the subject of a number of amendments, one of which provided for issuance of plates every 4 years, instead of every two years, effective in 1968.

Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth, who proposed the 4-year plates, said the change would help absorb the extra cost of reflectorization.

As a safety measure, reflectorization "is a real bargain," Ruhnke said Friday in resisting the motion to kill the bill.

Sen. Payne had moved to kill the bill also while it was being debated on general file, but the motion was shouted down at that time.

Bill Waiving Permits For Dealers Advanced

Bills authorizing farm equipment dealers to move over-length and over-width equipment on state highways without special permits received first-round approval on the legislative floor Friday.

The companion bills, LB222 and LB223, permit movement during daylight hours in the home county or adjoining counties of the dealer in connection with pick-ups and deliveries in the course of his business.

The bills accord to the dealers a privilege already accorded to farmers.

Movement on the interstate highway, however, is not allowed.

The bills were introduced by Sens. Harold Stryker of Rising City, Albert Kjar of Lexington and George Gerdes of Alliance.

Other bills advanced from general file Friday:

LB346—Reducing the amount of weed seed and other inert ingredients which may be present in seed offered for sale.

LB353—Simplifying the procedure for obtaining a boat license to make the mechanics approximately the same as for obtaining an automobile license.

LB307—Appropriating funds to pay premiums on the official bonds of the state treasurer and his deputy.

LB464—Eliminating use of marginal notations to release real estate mortgages.

LB193—Variously revising law related to state aid for trainable mentally retarded children.

Sen. Ross Rasmussen of Hooper, chief sponsor of LB193, offered an amendment, dutifully adopted, to eliminate from the bill a provision which would have forced the Legislature to appropriate as much money as would be needed to supply the full amount of state aid provided in the law.

This issue had become a major bone of contention earlier in a related bill, LB184, dealing with state aid to handicapped children.

Hardship Cases Bill Is Revived

A bill permitting the State Health Department's Division of Vital Statistics to waive the $1.50 fee for providing certified copies of records in hardship cases was revived in the Legislature Friday after being killed earlier by the Public Health Committee.

Omaha Sen. William Skarda Jr. had to resort to a call of the house—a procedure to bring all senators to their seats so they can vote—to get the 22 votes needed for revival of LB453. The motion carried 22-12.

Acknowledged
That is because Combe acknowledged his status by showing up in court with a lawyer.

The other two men cited by the duke have not, so far, registered an appearance before Lord Wheatley in the session court, where the case is being heard.

The duke is 59. The duchess, 48, was an internationally famous beauty in the days when she was the wife of Charles Sweeney, American stockbroker and top-ranking amateur golfer.

CAB Defers Action On Frontier Request

Beatrice Stop Eliminated As Of April 1st

Washington (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board altered the route of Frontier Airlines Friday, eliminating some of the less profitable points.

The board deferred action, however, on its examiner's recommendation that Frontier service be discontinued at 6 communities in Nebraska.

The board said a change in the airlines' management has resulted in an improved operating situation and that the situation there will be re-examined.

The board deferred at least until July 1 a decision on whether to continue or end Frontier's Route 11 between Denver and Omaha and its authority to serve Alliance, Chadron, Hastings, Kearney, McCook, and Sidney, Neb.

Frontier was granted temporary authority to serve Sidney between Scottsbluff, Neb., and Denver.

The board order, effective April 1, also:

- Eliminated Sterling, Colo., and Imperial, Neb., from its Denver-Omaha Route 11.
- Eliminated Alliance, Neb., and Cheyenne, Wyo., from the Omaha-Denver Route 12.
- Eliminated Beatrice, Neb., from the Omaha-Kansas City route.

Frontier initially had proposed to abandon service at the 6 Nebraska communities, but last spring it requested deferment of a decision for one year because of changed plans of the new management.

The CAB said there has been sharp improvement in Frontier's public relations in Nebraska from what it called the "highly charged atmosphere of hostility" evident during the use-it-or-lose-it test conducted by the airline.

The board said a revised schedule pattern inaugurated last July 1 has brought about service improvements which, linked with aggressive promotional activity, could result in generation of much additional traffic.

The board said deletion of Sterling, Sidney and Imperial from Route 11 will make it possible for Frontier to provide a direct service between Denver and McCook.

The CAB said it recognizes that Nebraska local service will require considerable subsidy support, but said the temporary extension of service is warranted by the public interest.

Washington (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board decided Friday to review the prospect of service to Columbus, Neb., by Frontier Airlines.

At the same time the board ruled against service at Columbus by North Central Airlines.

Examiner Russell A. Potter held July 19 that the public need was insufficient to require authorization of scheduled air service for Columbus.

In its order Friday the CAB said no party had requested review of Potter's ruling, so far as North Central was concerned. Therefore, it said, that a part of the examiner's decision would go into effect immediately.

But the board said that with respect to authority for Frontier at Columbus it chose to stay that part until further order.

Action Will Aid Southern Route, Says Sandstedt

Frontier Airline's southern Nebraska route will be strengthened by action taken by the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) Friday, according to state aeronautics Director James Sandstedt.

He said this is because the board deleted Sterling, Colo., Sidney and Imperial from the route from Omaha to Denver, Colo. As a result, direct flying time between McCook and Denver will be cut an hour.

The revised route will leave only Omaha, Kearney, Hastings, Chadron, McCook and Denver.

Sandstedt regretted the deletion of Beatrice from the Omaha to Kansas City, Mo. route, but said this was due to the city's proximity to Lincoln.

Rockefeller Boycott Looms

Omaha (AP)—A newly formed statewide association of conservatives announced Friday it will boycott the testimonial dinner for Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb., next month as a protest to the scheduled appearance of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York.

Temple McFayden, Omaha, spokesman for the group known as the Nebraska Council for Conservative Action, said the move to bring Rockefeller to Nebraska "is an implied endorsement" of Rockefeller as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination. He declared the invitation was "a slap at Nebraska conservative hopes for 1964."

McFayden said he is authorized to speak for the executive committee of the group, which he said "does not blame Senator Hruska for this blunder. A man does not make arrangements for speakers at his own testimonial dinner."

He said this move has made it impossible for members of his organization to attend or support what he termed a "much-deserved testimonial to Senator Hruska."

McFayden is president of the Midwest Conservative Club, one of 14 organizations which make up the Nebraska Council for Conservative Action.

The Nebraska council was formed at a meeting Jan. 6 in Grand Island.

Bill Moore of Grand Island, president of the Think and Act Committee of Grand Island, and McFayden said they are two of the 6 members of the council's executive committee.

They said others are: Ed Jacksha, Independence, Committee, Fremont; Bob Thomas, Madison County Constitutional Conservatives, Norfolk; Monroe Usher Jr., Lancaster County Constitutional Conservatives, Lincoln; and Ray Simmons, Dodge County Conservatives, Fremont.

They said other representatives on the council and their organizations are: Dr. John Baker, Sutherland, American Association of Physicians and Surgeons; Dr. Charles Curtis, Kearney Constitutional Conservatives; Richard Baumgartner, Scottsbluff Constitution Study Committee; Dr. Arden Means, Holdrege Conservatives; Robert Lambourn, Dodge County Conservatives; Earl Luff, Nebraska Constitutional Association, Lincoln; Francis Blankenau, Madison, Nebraska Young Americans for Freedom; Dr. Allen Burkhardt, Norfolk, Association of Nebraska Taxpayers; and Craig Weeks, Kenesaw, Nebraska for Government by Law.

Dairy Herds' Annual Loss $500 Million

... From Mastitis

Economic loss due to mastitis in dairy herds in the United States may run as high as $500 million annually, a University of Nebraska official said here.

Dr. Phillip L. Kelly, chairman of the University's Department of Dairy Husbandry, told veterinarians assembled for a mastitis conference at the Nebraska Center that while this estimated figure may be high, losses are extremely serious.

The resistance of staphylococci forms of infection included under the term mastitis, to various antibiotics coming into general use presents a knotty problem to scientists, producing dairymen and other sectors of the dairy industry, Dr. Kelly noted.

Cites Surveys

He cited British surveys which have shown that the number of strains of the staphylococci organism resistant to penicillin is increasing, and it appears that in time this would be true of other antibiotics used to treat mastitis.

Dr. Kelly quoted one researcher as expressing the fear that "unless some new wonder drug emerges, it would seem that we shall be doomed to try out, use and discard one (antibiotic) after another until cows will be infected with some of the most resistant staphylococci known to man."

Dubray Innocent Of Abandoning Dead Girl's Body

Alliance (AP)—A 12-man District Court jury found Pershing L. Dubray innocent of a charge of abandoning a dead human body.

Dubray was charged in connection with the discovery of the body of Gurgis Gap, alongside Nebraska 385 about 14 miles north of Alliance last April 4.

Dubray was a stepbrother of the dead girl.

He testified the last time he saw the girl alive was 11 p.m. the night before her body was found. His wife testified she left the girl asleep in the Dubray car outside their Alliance home. The jury returned its verdict after more than two hours deliberation.

Youthland Project Out

Wahoo (AP)—The promoter of "Youthland U.S.A." says the project "is no longer a part of Wahoo's future."

Vale W. Kane of Lincoln, in a letter to the Fremont Guide and Tribune, said he discussed the plan with the Chamber of Commerce in Wahoo. He said a local fund raising campaign would be necessary to assure the first year of operation.

A civic leader, who asked not to be identified, said the chamber was behind Kane but not enough people were willing to work for the project.

The "Youthland" project would have recognized and honored the nation's youth for achievements in science, art, government, athletics and religion.

Man Crushed To Death At Gibbon Dump

Gibbon (AP)—Michael J. Larsen, 21, Lincoln, Kan., an employee of the Combs Construction Co., Kansas City, Mo., was fatally injured when he was crushed between the frame and the box of a dump truck, Buffalo County Deputy Sheriff Dale Sautter reported.

Sautter said the accident occurred at a junk yard where Larsen and a fellow worker had delivered a load of broken concrete from a construction project.

Larsen is survived by his father, Edward L. Larsen, 4 brothers and 4 sisters. The body will be returned to Lincoln, Kan., for funeral services and burial.

Sunday Beer Sale Vote Not Going On G.I. Ballot

Grand Island (AP)—The City Council has decided against a Sunday beer sale vote in the April 2 special election.

A number of other special issues already are on the ballot.

City Atty. Richard L. Huber has advised the council that a motion placing the question of Sunday beer sales on the ballot did not constitute legal action.

Meeting to substitute a formal resolution for the earlier action, the council voted 4-3 to table the proposal.

Grand Island now permits Sunday sale of beer.

101 Bottles Liquor Seized; 5 Persons Arrested In Raid

Carter Lake, Iowa (AP)—Five persons were arrested in a liquor raid on the Shangri La Club here early Friday.

Seven state agents and 28 police and sheriff's officers who took part in the raid reported seizing 101 bottles of liquor.

Leo Kubik, 46, identified as the operator of the club, was charged with bootlegging.

Bootlegging charges also were filed against his son, Richard Lee Kubik, 24, and Lena Jean Nisley, 24, a waitress.

Big Sifting Job

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The job of the Legislature in dealing with public power becomes bigger every day. The task grows in intensity, importance and complexity as a result of the hardening of position on the part of various interest groups. One of these groups is the city of Lincoln which, officially, has no real position but which should develop one with haste if it is to fulfill its responsibilities.

The city government cannot afford to let its responsibility be assumed by outside groups within the community, regardless of how well intentioned they might be.

City's Electric Future

To date, the City Council has demonstrated a reliance upon its expanded nine-member Utilities Advisory Board. This is a logical move but the council should let the board know that some decisions are pressing. Now before the Legislature are a number of bills which will seriously affect the electric future of Lincoln. And it is not entirely a question of just which bills the city is to be for and against. It must also consider what is likely to happen from a practical point of view.

One bill would require Consumers Public Power District to turn over to Lincoln all the retail distribution system in the city. Another bill eliminates the requirement for a vote of the people on the acquisition by municipalities from Consumers of retail system within their corporate limits in 1972. A fourth measure provides for a so-called strong merger plan for existing generation, transmission and distribution facilities operated beyond the retail level.

A fourth plan would divide the eastern part of the state, with the exception of Omaha and surrounding counties, into five separate areas for generation, transmission and distribution. If Lincoln is to protect its future, it must do more than take a stand for or against each of these bills.

The area plan bill should definitely be opposed and it is hoped the Legislature realizes that such an approach would only change around the existing pattern of things, leaving an open door to all kinds of bickering and fighting in the future as well as wasteful duplication. The other bills should be carefully considered by Lincoln as all of them have some merit as well as some shortcomings. If the city wants to endorse the Lincoln acquisition measure, it should realize that it is running counter to the interests of Consumers Public Power District and will be entering the political arena against Consumers. This would make future negotiations with Consumers more difficult should the Lincoln bill be turned down.

The city government should also give careful consideration to such things as power supply and physical problems of a merger before it settles definitely for the Lincoln acquisition bill. The questions on the bill eliminating the requirement for a vote of the people in 1972 and the strong merger plan are complicated and somewhat interwoven. In many respects, the strong merger plan might well be Lincoln's cup of tea. Its one major advantage is that it is supported by Consumers. It is not suggested that Lincoln walk away from any fight with Consumers. If in the end the city must fight Consumers, in the Legislature or at the ballot box, then that is the way it shall be.

But Lincoln does not want to engage in a fight if this is not necessary, nor does Consumers. To do so would be a costly thing because the Legislature would be hard put to pass a bill that could not be litigated in the courts for a good long time and at a great deal of expense. And a fight means someone loses which is an end with no special virtue. Since both the city and Consumers represent the people, the loser would be the people.

The strong merger bill does not attempt to put the municipalities at the mercy of a consolidated generation and distribution giant. It is possible that if Lincoln agreed to support the bill, Consumers would go along with an amendment eliminating the vote requirement, at least in primary class cities or those with existing generation and distribution facilities of their own.

This would mean Lincoln's problem of ownership would be solved for sure by 1972 at the latest. The bill now eliminates the vote but only on a straight purchase basis and the acquisition in 1972 would be for free. One other section of the merger bills appears to need clarification. This section has to do with municipalities acquiring their distribution systems buying their power from the merger organization. Consumers and Lincoln could both probably agree to amend the bill to limit this purchase requirement to current loads now being carried by Consumers. This would free Lincoln to build a supply of its own or buy from any other source for all future growth and would still protect Consumers' bonded indebtedness against existing loads.

In short, the strong merger bill is agreeable to Consumers and could well be made agreeable to Lincoln. This is an opportunity that would be lost, however, if Lincoln goes for broke on the proposed Lincoln acquisition bill and stands against the rest or takes no position at all on them.

Possible Area Of Agreement

Orchid To Sertoma

The Sertoma Club wins an orchid—not for being the only luncheon club engaged in a worthy community activity; they all win distinction for that; but for happening upon an extraordinarily useful one.

The club maintains a supply of facsimiles of the Declaration of Independence, done on parchment enclosed in a neat folder containing, also, a full copy of a worthy address by Walter Miltzer on "Our Headwater of Freedom."

The club presents this to all Lincoln high school graduates, to members of the state legislature and to each former alien upon his attainment of U.S. citizenship.

It is probable that the new citizens read the contents most carefully and cherish their copy of the Declaration with the most reverence. They would do so for two reasons. Unlike native born citizens they have to know a good deal about the country else naturalization is refused. The new citizens also look on citizenship as a fulfillment of a heart's desire and, therefore, holds it precious.

There have been lots of manifestos by people who wish to break with their past. Most of them are hymns of hate. Some, like the Communist manifesto, add an assassin's threat to the rest of the world.

By contrast the American declaration, while enumerating the sufferings of its people, asserts with quiet determination that all men are created free and equal with the unalienable rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. It only seeks independence and sovereignty to pursue those goals, which, under God, it is going to get or die. In the sentiments of Lincoln it was written with malice toward none and charity toward all. It is a wonderful and lifting piece of reading—a specific for all faint and troubled hearts.

Call To Arms

One full day being now elapsed since February passed into history, this dauntless organ of the firm stand is prepared to state that March did not come in as a roaring lion, and will hold to that no matter how many detractors.

A swift review of the new year thus far shows January to have been a winter month to try men's souls. But February was an anticlimax and a failure, if one accepts the position that winter months were invented to eliminate the human race. March has always been a deceitful period when taunting promises of early spring are interspersed by devastating storms.

Chase's calendar, which keeps track of 1,064 special days, weeks and months for special observance, ranging from National Indigestion Week (November) to Measure Your Mattress Month. (September) lists very few major observances during March.

This is not to downgrade the highly interesting observance of the "Return of Buzards to Hinkley, Ohio" (March 15). This offers an opportunity for local improvement in this bracket of time.

Colorado sets aside January for its annual beef month. Nebraska could well pick up the baton and go further with that throughout March. Dollarwise beef is Nebraska's biggest industry and the state's principal claim to international fame. It has the world's biggest livestock market, the finest range and such piles of corn in between that a lean grasser can eat his way to market and arrive butter fat.

There is an enormous number of underprivileged eaters in the country who have never been told that revolutions do not occur where proletariats dine on corn fed beef. We have a message to deliver.

Rep. Powell Talks Back To Critics

WASHINGTON—The flare-up on the House floor against Adam Clayton Powell's spending hijinks was a tea party compared with the wild commotion behind closed doors when the Harlem Congressman tried to justify a proposed $697,000 budget for his Education and Labor committee.

The secret hearing became so bitter that the administration committee deferred final action on Powell's budget until next week, when it probably will be cut about $150,000.

Republicans John Kyl of Iowa and Charles Goodell of New York ripped into their handsome Democratic colleague for allegedly making 25 trips to Puerto Rico in the last two years. They also asked him about a $2,500 phone bill by New York aides and about $1,300 which is still due Eastern Airlines for plane travel by Powell and his staff.

"Why single me out for this sort of questioning among all the committee chairmen in Congress?" shot back the New Yorker, who has a home in Puerto Rico. "Do you expect me to keep an account of every phone call and trip made by my staff members on official business?"

"Who went on the trips?" persisted Kyl.

"Look up the tickets," replied Powell. "I can't keep in my head an itinerary of everywhere I go in two years, nor the travels of my staff aides. It was all legitimate, official business."

"Do you consider all these trips to Puerto Rico, when you were visiting your wife, official business?" inquired Kyl.

DORIS FLESON

Lady Bird Takes Welfare Duties

WASHINGTON—It must have seemed like old times in West Virginia Friday.

A gracious woman from the highest Washington circles flew in and addressed herself to the first fruits of the Kennedy administration effort to improve economic and social conditions in the distressed areas.

Mrs. Lyndon Johnson did not go down a coal mine as Eleanor Roosevelt did nearly 30 years ago, but her 14-hour day was faithful to the pattern recorded in the most famous diary of modern times.

It began when she turned the first shovel of earth for the new county library in the suburbs of Charleston, a project of the area redevelopment administration. Her own large gift of books included—but of course—"Profiles In Courage," autographed, and others autographed by famous men.

She next handed out retraining certificates to former coal miners now employed as metal workers by the FMC Corporation. Another stop was a hospital where formerly unemployed men and women who had been trained under ARA auspices today work as technicians.

Mrs. Johnson's development as an energizing and sponsoring force on the social welfare front of an administration conscious of

"Don't you want to take my word for it?" snapped Powell. "Some of the trips you refer to were made by committee staff members. I wasn't the only one who traveled abroad."

"How about this unpaid balance of $1,300 due Eastern Airlines?" asked Kyl. "Yes, why wasn't that paid?" broke in Goodell. "This is the first report I have had that it wasn't paid," replied Powell. "I don't always know about every outstanding bill of the committee. When they are brought to my attention, I certify them for payment."

"I might add that I turned back about $3,000 of unexpended committee funds to Congress. If we owe anything to Eastern Airlines, let's pay it out of that."

Powell also side-stepped charges that Republicans were short-changed in committee staff appointments.

"That's unfair," he said. "I intend to allocate $110,000 of the committee's new budget to the minority for staff purposes. That is certainly an equitable share and the Republican minority can use it to hire any staff members it wants."

"There's a slight 'if' involved there," suggested Rep. Wayne Hays, the Ohio Democrat. "You will give the money to the Republicans—if you get it."

"Yes—if you get it," echoed New York's Goodell. "Suppose you don't get it."

"In that case, I'll have to evaluate the situation, consistent with the funds you authorize for my committee," responded Powell with a grin.

What's behind the big Hruska dinner?

Why was Governor Rockefeller—a moderate or liberal Republican—named to headline the all-star GOP program?

Does Senator Hruska harbor vice presidential ambitions?

What about Barry Goldwater?

Those are the questions which are being asked in the halls of the Statehouse this Republican Founders Day week. Here are the answers:

The giant Hruska dinner in Omaha April 6 serves to honor the senator's 10 years service in Washington, as previously announced. It is also designed to raise campaign funds for Nebraska's 1964 GOP senatorial nominee. That nominee will without a doubt be Roman Hruska.

The dinner will also help kick off the organizational effort of that campaign. Hruska lieutenants are already at work planning the 1964 effort. All 93 counties will be represented at the dinner; all 93 will have a dinner chairman, and a ready-made county organizational nucleus.

A few Hruska enthusiasts cherish the hope that the senator might be a vice presidential possibility in 1964.

But most do not—based largely on the fact that Nebraska is not (by any means) a swing state in national elections, and the fact that the Republican presidential nominee can feel fairly secure about Midwest farm states in next year's go-around.

Another factor which tends to rule out any vice presidential possibilities: Hruska, although a potent

So, in answer to a question asked in State Capitol corridors, the dinner is not designed to launch any Hruska vice presidential boomlet. Nor is it planned for the purpose of wooing Governor Rockefeller, the man likely to name the 1964 vice presidential nominee.

(As a matter of fact, under Nebraska's election laws, Hruska could not be a candidate for re-election to the Senate next year if he were to gain second spot on the national ticket. You can't run for two offices in this state.)

Thus, with the Republican presidential team decided underdog against President Kennedy next year, Hruska would very likely be giving up a Senate seat just for the honor of a nomination. You may rule that out.

Okay, so why Rockefeller? Simple: Nelson Rockefeller is likely to attract the largest possible crowd to the dinner, and thus raise the most funds.

Goldwater may still be the GOP favorite in Nebraska, granted. But Rockefeller has never been out our way; he is the current odds-on favorite for the 1964 GOP presidential nod, and Nebraska Republicans are anxious to look him over. He is the top potential drawing card.

Does Hruska's association with Rockefeller indicate endorsement, either way? Of course not.

Hruska boosters are hoping Rockefeller and other Republican national luminaries will lure a crowd of some 2,500. At fifty bucks a plate, the dinner would thus gross something around $125,000—a nice start for 1964.

The event may also be televised.

A side effect of the entire affair could be added impeachment to the considerable support which Hruska enjoys as a possible future successor to Senator Dirksen, Senate Republican leader.

Dirksen himself—who will be in Omaha April 6—told Nebraska newsmen in Grand Island a year or two ago that he would like to have Hruska considered for the leadership when he (Dirksen) is ready to step down.

Hruska already performs many of the chores of leadership for his party within the Senate. He has also accepted speaking engagements by the dozen in most of the 50 states, thus piling up a substantial number of political IOU's. All this is a part of the reason that so many prominent Republicans are coming to Nebraska in April.

As for Senator Goldwater, he will—as always—be a welcome guest in state Republican ranks. He is not being slighted by the speaking nod to Rockefeller, and he knows it. Hruska supporters hope he can attend the Omaha event, but if he does not come, it will be because an honor has come to his daughter—and he wished to be with her and share a moment of family pride.

So, that's it. Roman Hruska is getting ready to seek another Senate term next year. His friends want to kick it off early—and with a big bang by putting together what is likely to be the largest big-name political show in the state's history.

Prominent Nebraska Republicans like Charlie Thone are already at work organizing for the 1964 Hruska campaign.

And they are putting it together as if Hruska will be running against the toughest possible Democratic contender.

That toughest foe, all admit, would be Frank Morrison. Hruska lieutenants do not expect the governor to be Hruska's opponent. But they mean to be ready if he is.

Malcolm, Neb.

While watching the film on the life of Adolf Hitler on television about two months ago, the question came into my mind: How was this bum able to advance himself into a position where he could control and terrorize almost the whole world?

The answer is simple: He preached false freedom. He told the German people that if they got rid of the Jews they would be free. This sounded like a good idea so the German people gave him their support. This worked fine as long as he eliminated rich Jews. When he ran out of rich Jews, any Jew would do. When the good German people objected to this, he branded them Jew-lovers and exterminated them, too.

When other Germans complained about this, he arrested them. Soon he had everyone suspecting everyone else and sent his gestapo after anyone who dared open his mouth except to yell "Heil, Hitler!"

One may say: "Why bring this up? It can't happen here." I say that it not only can happen here, but it is now in the process of happening. Legislative Bill 452 which cleared committee February 27 if passed into law will be the beginning of the end of freedom.

How can this be true? The answer is that it follows the same pattern. The proponents of LB 452 have used the same tactic of talking freedom and practicing hate.

They would set the chambers of commerce, the stockyards, the packing houses, the commercial feed lots and certain insurance companies against the decent, hard-working, honest farmer who objects to battling blizzards, chopping ice and feeding cattle all winter and gets for his trouble the privilege of buying the manure for $25 a ton.

If said honest farmers collect in groups of two or more, they could be construed as picketing and would be required by law to carry a sign with their name, address and telephone number on it so that any crank or goon would know whose house to throw a bomb into.

The introducer of this bill said the law would not eliminate such holding actions as practiced by the NFO but would only control them.

In the first place, the bill does not specifically mention the NFO. It could be used against anyone, anywhere, any time. In the second place, Hitler did not attempt to eliminate the whole world. He just wanted to control it.

I would urge everyone to fight this bill with all the strength he has. If we lose our freedom here, it is just possible we won't be able to find it on the other side of a wall somewhere else.

JOSEPH M. FRANSON

Lincoln, Neb.

I would like to comment on Mr. Malchow's letter of February 27 concerning the fact that he would like to see Maurice Chevalier be made a Nebraska citizen, too.

Doesn't he know that Maurice Chevalier was sentenced to be shot by a French firing squad during the last war for collaborating with the German Nazis and also for entertaining German soldiers?

He was saved from the firing squad by General Eisenhower.

H.S.

Editor's Note: The Associated Press Biographical Service has this to say on the matter: "During World War II there were reports that the actor collaborated with the Germans in occupied France. But after the country's liberation, the Music Hall Artists Union cleared him of that charge on the basis of its investigation. A statement issued by the organization said the singer's conduct had been upheld by Paris Resistance groups. The union declared the inquiry disclosed that Chevalier made only one public appearance during the occupation—in November of 1941—for which he received no payment. Chevalier said that appearance was in a French prisoner camp in Germany. Later, the statement said, he was forced to sing over Radio Paris but after 11 performances retired from the entertainment field rather than continue the radio programs. It credited him with obtaining the release of 10 prisoners from the Germans."

Peace Corps Offers Satisfying Life To Qualified Elders

By ROBERT PETERSON

When the Peace Corps was born two years ago I took a dim view of plans to send young people with limited experience to underdeveloped lands. It seemed it would be wiser to utilize retired people who had solid know-how and practical experience, and who would be better received in nations which have a traditional reverence for age.

It's good to note that the Peace Corps has modified its original age limitations, and now accepts men and women of all ages. At present more than a hundred Peace Corpsmen are past 50 years of age.

Currently there are several hundred openings for men and women who have recently retired or are about to do so. Those who apply should have successful work experience in teaching, health or community work. Applications should be sent to Peace Corps, Senior Manpower Recruitment, Washington 25, D.C.

Joining the Peace Corps may prove a rich and satisfying experience for healthy, qualified elders. The work is demanding, but not so strenuous as to be prohibitive for a retiree. The Peace Corps pays for 2 to 4 months of training, and for your travel and living expenses on assignment. In addition, you receive a termination allowance of $75 for each month of service complete, or $900 a year.

Ingratitude strikes me as one of the gravest sins of all, and few things stimulate my blood pressure more than hearing of children who have accepted all that their parents could offer and then respond with indifference.

Imagine the advantages which the daughter of Somerset Maugham enjoyed as a consequence of her kinship with the famed 89-year-old author. Yet her indifference to him has prompted him to file suit to take back gifts valued at some $2,000,000 which he has given her since her birth 47 years ago.

"My daughter never cared a rap about me," Maugham is quoted as saying in filing suit under Article 950 of the French Civil Code which permits recovery of gifts when proof is made of ingratitude on the part of the beneficiary.

Children may differ with their parents, but this is no excuse for acts of ingratitude of such magnitude as to cause elder parents to reflect that they never cared a rap. I hope Maugham wins his case and that it receives sufficient publicity to remind youngsters that ingratitude may have a practical as well as a moral disadvantage.

A few weeks ago I wrote about Jace Copple, 57, of Sioux City, Iowa, who's a watchman at a meatpacking plant but gets his kicks and sense of purpose from his avocation as a booking agent for amateur talent. He has about 250 people on his roster and puts on several shows a month for local hospitals and service groups. Have just received a note from Copple saying that thanks to the column a Hollywood filming company has contacted him and is planning to come to Sioux City and make a film of performers on his roster in the hope of locating some fresh talent for television.

Encouraging comment from Dr. Edward L. Bortz, past president of the American Medical Association, who says, "All evidence indicates a great many people now alive will live into their 80's and 90's, and that the time is not far away when a 100th birthday celebration will be of interest solely to the celebrant and his family and friends."

Ideal Plainsman, Plainswoman Picked

Barbara Hall, Scottsbluff, and Ed Stevens, Upton, Wyo., were named Friday as Wesleyan University's Ideal Plainswoman and Ideal Plainsman.

Miss Hall and Stevens were chosen by an all-school vote in a contest sponsored annually by "The Plainsman", campus yearbook.

They were revealed as Ideals today at the annual Senior Recognition day program. Their selection was based on scholarship achievement, activities, and attitude most typical of Wesleyan students.

Miss Hall Stevens

Miss Hall is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hall. She has served as president of Cardinal Key, women's honor society, president of Delta Zeta sorority, and as head cheerleader. She is a member of Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges, Kappa Delta Pi, Panhellenic Council, Student Education association and YWCA. Miss Hall will graduate in June with a major in education.

Stevens is a starting guard on the NWU championship basketball team. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Stevens of Upton. An independent, he has been W Club president, member of Blue Key, men's honorary, Kappa Delta Pi, Who's Who, and was elected Student Prince and senior class chaplain. He has been on the Dean's Honor List and is an ordained lay speaker in the Methodist church. Stevens is majoring in education and will graduate in June.

June Bride-Elect

Announcement is being made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spore of Lexington, of the betrothal of their daughter, Rebekah Ann, to Roger Allen Cocker, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cocker of Norfolk.

The wedding will be an event of June 9. A graduate of the University of Nebraska, the bride-elect is a member of Kappa Delta sorority. Her fiancé is a senior at the University of Nebraska and is a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

We're not a believer in omens — good or bad, but we must say that IF we believe in omens we would be considerably worried about the end of March and the big bad lion. The lamb is a bit too docile for our peace.

Actually the weather is the least of our concern. There is too much going on around and about in the way of news. Just this morning we cast an eye in the direction of mid-May — the time designated for the opening of the new and beautiful Sheldon Memorial Art Museum.

On the afternoon of Wednesday May 15, the galleries will be open to press photographers, and in the evening the members of the press will be given a preview of the Museum.

The dedication ceremonies are planned for 11 o'clock on Thursday morning, May 16, and Dr. Frank Stanton, president of CBS, will give the dedicatory address.

Following the dedication there is to be a luncheon at the Student Union, and we think it might be well to say that both the dedication and the luncheon are invitation affairs.

On Thursday evening the members of the University of Nebraska faculty and staff will be shown through the galleries.

The Friday calendar includes a special student preview between the hours of 10 o'clock and 3 o'clock, and on Friday evening there will be a preview for the members of the Nebraska Art Association. The public may enjoy the galleries from 12 o'clock to 5 o'clock on both Saturday and Sunday. The Sheldon Museum will be closed on Monday, but will open on Tuesday for its regular schedule of hours.

So much for one of the city's most exciting events, and back to the current week.

Home again are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest U. Guenzel who returned Thursday evening from a trip abroad. Mr. and Mrs. Guenzel went first to the Canary Islands where they spent two weeks. From there the travelers went to Spain for a week's stay in Madrid — on to Lisbon, Portugal for a week's stay and then to Geneva, Switzerland for another week.

Upon arriving in the States Mr. and Mrs. Guenzel spent a few days in New York City before boarding plane for home.

Tonight is dinner dance night for the members of the Monday Night Club who are having their "Mid-Winter" party at Hotel Cornhusker. Guest couples will be Dr. and Mrs. Paul Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. John Angle, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Devaney, Mr. and Mrs. Avery Forke and Mr. and Mrs. Lou Shackelford.

Arranging the party details is a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor Greer, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Seacrest, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Watts and Mr. and Mrs. James Swanson.

And next Monday evening will find the Colonial Dancing Club members dining and tripping the light fantastic in the ballroom at Hotel Cornhusker.

The party details are in the hands of a committee which includes Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Mulligan, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Everett, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Enersen, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kramer, Mr. and Mrs. Al Loder, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Piper, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Atkins.

There is something nice to mention about the past, too—a luncheon on Friday, for instance, the party hostess was Mrs. Arthur J. Weaver, Jr., who entertained in courtesy to Miss Ruth Anne Read whose marriage to John Weaver will be solemnized on April 27.

The luncheon guests included only members of the family.

But Miss Read's prenuptial courtesies really began when Mr. and Mrs. James Stuart were a recent host and hostess in her honor.

And on Thursday of this week the bride-elect was again honored when Mrs. Fred Bodie, Jr., entertained as a luncheon at her home. Luncheon places were arranged for 18, and Miss Read was presented with a miscellaneous shower.

Also on Miss Read's courtesy call for this week-end is the 9 o'clock breakfast for which Mrs. Lee Stover will be hostess at her home on Sunday morning. The guest list will include a group of Miss Read's Pi Beta Phi sisters who will present her with a kitchen and recipe shower.

Plan April Weddings

From all advance indications, the spring of 1963 is going to be a very busy one for the friends and family members of Lincoln and campus couples who have chosen April and May as their wedding months.

Planning a wedding for early April is Miss Ruthann Chubbuck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Chubbuck and Kappa Kappa Gamma at the University of Nebraska, who will become the bride of Richard Keith on Friday, April 5.

Miss Chubbuck is announcing this morning that the ceremony will be solemnized at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, at Grace Methodist Church.

For her maid of honor, the bride-to-be has named Miss Jana Lambach of Omaha, and her matron of honor will be Mrs. Gary R. Fries. The bridesmaids will be Miss Pam Holloway of Grand Island; Miss Lana Norris, McCook; and Miss Dottie Carpenter, Omaha.

Lighting the chancel candles will be Miss Barbara Bredehoff of Coffeyville, Kan., and Miss Honey Lou McDonald, McCook.

Richard Harr will serve Mr. Young as best man, and seating the guests will be Steve Norris, Enis Alldredge, Jr., Mike MacLean and Gary Fries.

Prenuptial courtesies honoring Miss Chubbuck will begin on Saturday, March 9, when Mrs. H. H. Holloway and her daughter, Miss Pam Holloway, will entertain at luncheon at the University Club.

On Saturday evening, March 9, Mrs. John Grasmick and Mrs. Carl Vander-slice will be co-hostesses to a group of guests at a miscellaneous shower, to be held at the home of Mrs. Grasmick.

Bridal courtesies honoring Miss Bernice Zelen continue to fill the calendar preceding her approaching marriage to Charles Schimmel of Wichita, Kan., on Sunday, April 7.

Entertaining in courtesy to Miss Zelen next Wednesday will be Mrs. Leo Rosenberg who will be hostess at a bridal shower to be held at her home.

Mrs. Harry Levinson and Mrs. Edwin Katskee will be co-hostesses on Sunday, March 10, when they will entertain at a brunch honoring the soon-to-be bride, who also will be honored Sunday evening at a dinner for which Mrs. Ben Ellis will be hostess at her home.

Dental Group

The monthly meeting of the Lincoln Dental Assistants Association will be held Monday evening following a dinner at 6:30 o'clock, at King's Buffet.

During the meeting, new officers will be installed.

Suburbia Always Has Fun

MEADOW LANE

Ah, Saturday! The family's favorite day of the week when Daddy gets to sleep a little later (until the golf season begins), Mother doesn't have to hurry the little ones off to school, and best of all, when all of our youngest Suburbanites can play, play, play all day long!

Yes, Saturday can be an ideal day IF Junior doesn't have a Saturday morning class at the University, if Dad doesn't have an early morning appointment and if the little miss in the family doesn't have a 9 a.m. dancing lesson.

But what's there to do on an ideal day such as this? Is it a bore? What a silly question for our busy Suburban residents who never seem to be in want of "something to do."

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Strom and their youngsters, Wally, Sue Anne, and Carolyn, for example, are busy this week-end celebrating a family birthday and entertaining visitors from Omaha.

The birthday is that of Master Wally Strom, who is now three years old, and the visitors are Mr. Strom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Strom.

And Meadow Lane residents who will be very busy today are Mr. and Mrs. William C. Mortensen and their children, Kim, Karen, and Kurt, who are in the process of changing addresses.

The Mortensen family, who have resided in Meadow Lane for some time now, will be calling 1849 Prospect home very soon.

Meadow Lane neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Mortensen honored the family on Feb. 20 at a neighborhood potluck supper in the University Place Fire station recreation hall.

More residents who are to be changing their address soon are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spinharny and their little ones, Karen Renee, Michelle, Debbie, Craig, Pam, and Scott.

This time, however, Omaha is the destination, and March 15 is the moving date. We'll hear more about Mr. and Mrs. Spinharny's move later this month.

A visitor who has been in Meadow Lane one week today is Miss Anne Anderson, who is the guest of Maj. and Mrs. Edward Wick and their family of Barbara, Susan, Scot, Bonnie, Gary, and Robert.

Miss Anderson, who is Mrs. Wick's aunt, arrived in Lincoln last Saturday evening, and plans to stay one more week before returning to her home in Boulder, Colo.

Entertaining dinner guests last Sunday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Kitrell and their son, Dannie. Their guests for the informal evening gathering of their two families were their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Al Sweetman and their son, Chuck.

A dessert and bridge hostess on Tuesday was Mrs. Donald Kaelin who entertained three neighbors at the regular evening gathering of this monthly foursome.

Her guests were Mrs. Al Farmer, Mrs. Sidney Kitrell, and Mrs. Robert Harrington.

And it's "would-be-anniversary" time this weekend at the Leonard Smith household where Mr. and Mrs. Smith would have celebrated their anniversary if it were 1964.

It's actually much simpler than it sounds, as Mr. and Mrs. Smith were married on Feb. 29, which, of course, only rolls around every four years.

According to our research, however, we've found that they could celebrate for one minute at midnight on Feb. 28. Hope it was a very busy and exciting anniversary celebration!

And it was baby shower time again in Meadow Lane on Friday as Mrs. Jerome Turek and Mrs. Bob Jansky entertained neighbors at the Turek home in honor of Mrs. Lewis Moorberg.

We understand the hostesses decided to "take no chances," for this evening dessert and coffee was a pink and blue shower.

Those honoring Mrs. Moorberg included Mrs. Glenn Gubser, Mrs. Keith Barrett, Mrs. Fred Bishop, Mrs. Jerry Wolvin, Mrs. Jack Davis, Mrs. Jack Reed, Mrs. Eldon Moorberg, Mrs. Ruth Moorberg, Mrs. Duane Foote, Mrs. Minnie Hinze, and Mrs. Glenn Tonigges.

A birthday in the neighborhood this week was that of Master Mark Klasek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klasek, who celebrated anniversary number five on Thursday.

For his celebration, Mark and his mother entertained five of his neighborhood friends for lunch and an afternoon of home movies at the Klasek residence.

Those little ones celebrating includes Tammy Smith, Lisa and Kelly Drew, Lizzie Deines, and Michael Hippler.

Mr. and Mrs. Klasek also entertained on Wednesday evening when they hosted departing neighbors, Capt. and Mrs. Robert Hippler, at an informal dinner party at the Klasek home.

Capt. and Mrs. Hippler and their family, you will recall, are moving this week-end to Rapid City, S.D.

PARK MANOR

Lincoln and Park Manor residents in Omaha this weekend are Mr. and Mrs. Marc Anthony and their children, Chip, Matthew, and Marsha, who have made the trip to celebrate Master Matthew's birthday with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Earl Anthony and Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Sullivan.

This is birthday number four for Matthew, and appropriately, the family is spending four days in Omaha. The Park Manor residents drove to Omaha yesterday, and will be returning on Sunday. During their visit they are houseguests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan.

Opening lead — seven of spades.

Bridge is a game of thrust and counter-thrust. Each side has a variety of weapons at its command and the victory in a given hand usually goes to the side with the best weapons, assuming they are used to maximum capacity.

Here is a case in point. West leads a spade against three no-trump. The result of the hand then depends on how the players meet their obligations. There are three main courses of play they may follow, each of which is here examined.

No. 1. East plays the queen of spades which declarer takes with the ace. South has only eight sure tricks at this point. He has two sources for an additional trick — he may find the diamonds divided 3-3, or he may establish two club tricks by forcing out the ace and king.

Let's say he tests the diamonds and finds the suit divided 4-2. When he tackles clubs, West wins with the king, cashes his good diamond, and plays a spade to the king. East returns a spade and South is down at least one.

No. 2. East plays the queen of spades which declarer ducks. As the cards lie, South makes the contract. The holdup play succeeds because East's spades are no longer a threat. East can establish his spades by returning the suit and playing another spade after he takes the ace of clubs, but he will then have no entry card. South loses two clubs and a spade and makes four no-trump.

No. 3. East plays the eight of spades on the seven and South is knocked out of the box. He is defeated regardless of what he does next. Forced to win the spade, he can do no better than tackle clubs. When he does, West grabs the king and returns a spade. The ace is forced out and East still has the ace of clubs as an entry to cash his spades.

Par on the hand, with everyone playing perfectly, is for South to go down one.

Dear Abby

Never Assume The Worst

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I found a letter in my husband's pocket. It was from someone signed "TONI." When I asked my husband about it, he said TONI was a fellow he worked with. Now would a MAN write to another man telling him how much he liked his hair cut and saying he was looking forward to the next time they could have a beer together? And isn't TONI a woman's name, and TONY a man's name? I am confused and need help on this before I get really mad.

JEALOUS
DEAR JEALOUS: TONI can be a man's name or a woman's but don't assume the worst. Some men play the game only after they've been given the name.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man whose wife died two months ago and he is ready to marry another woman? The man is 45 and the woman he wants to marry is 30. His wife left five young children. Everyone knows they need a mother, but what is the hurry? The whole town is against this marriage. Even his own minister refused to perform the ceremony, saying it was disrespectful to the deceased wife for him to marry so soon. So the couple is going out of town to get married. What do you think of it?

SMALL TOWN
DEAR SMALL TOWN: Convention dictates a long wait between mates than two months. But there is an old Indian adage: "Never judge a man until you have walked a month in his moccasins."

DEAR ABBY: There is a boy at school who asks the girls if he can kiss them to see how their lipstick tastes. He says he can tell if their lipstick is expensive or cheap. What do you think of such a boy? He is in the 9th grade.

NINTH-GRADE GIRL
DEAR NINTH: When a boy wants a kiss, one excuse is as good as another. But if a girl lets an acknowledgment "lipstick taster" get that close, the GIRL is cheap.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ALABAMA: Because many sin more than they suffer, some must suffer more than they sin.

Dinner Planned

The members of the Nebraska Wesleyan University Faculty Auxiliary will hold their annual pot-luck dinner this evening at the Campus Center on the Wesleyan campus. One hundred and thirty persons, including the husbands of the members as guests, are expected to attend the affair which begins at 6:30 o'clock.

The decor will emphasize Nebraska Wesleyan's 75th anniversary observance, and the short program that has been planned will introduce the fashions of 1890 which will be worn by members of the program cast.

Dynes and Mrs. John Fenimore. Ladies invited were Mrs. Glen Lally, Mrs. Harold C. Morrison, Mrs. Joseph Wratten, Mrs. William Hathaway, Mrs. Leroy Miller, Mrs. Daniel Fierro, Mrs. Donald Kellum, Mrs. Geoffrey Mumby, Mrs. James Jacobs and Mrs. William Carrier.

A coffee in farewell to Mrs. Gordon Johnson was held Tuesday morning at the residence of Mrs. Richard A. Mitchell with Mrs. Roger Clemens as co-hostess. Eighteen friends of Mrs. Johnson's were on hand to say their farewells, and each arrived with their favorite recipe as a memento for the guest of honor. Capt. and Mrs. Johnson have completed their tour in the Air Force and will be departing Lincoln the middle of the month for Minneapolis and civilian life.

Mrs. Robert W. Culwell was a hostess Thursday when she entertained her bridge group at her Sarnoski Drive residence. Ladies enjoying the afternoon and the delicious dessert were Mrs. Earl Holcomb, Mrs. George Miller, Mrs. Daniel Dolan, Mrs. B. A. Quam, Mrs. William Schwob, Mrs. John B. Taylor and Mrs. Richard Coon.

Mrs. Willie Moser was a hostess Thursday when she entertained her bridge group at her Wilkins Terrace residence. Those attending were Mrs. Forrest Marvel, Mrs. John Phillips, Mrs. Arthur Stokes, Mrs. Donald Shilling, Mrs. John Crook, Mrs. Myron Piggott and Mrs. Glen J. Lally.

Last Friday evening Mrs. James Evans was a hostess on her birthday! She entertained with a dessert bridge at her Carswell residence. Ladies enjoying the gathering were Mrs. Jefferson Finch, Mrs. Stanley States, Mrs. Donald Greene, Mrs. John Terfy, Mrs. Frank Ott, Mrs. Darrell Gallenberger, Mrs. William Sund, Mrs. John Perevuznik, Mrs. Guy B. Ward and Mrs. Gerald Linscheid.

Last Saturday evening Maj. and Mrs. Robert O. Beaudro entertained at their Carswell residence with a dinner party and an evening of bridge. Couples invited were Lt. Col. and Mrs. Harold Loughran, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Henry Liljedahl, Maj. and Mrs. Robert Spiller, Maj. and Mrs. Robert Dorothy and Capt. and Mrs. Richard Cox.

Mrs. John B. Taylor will be entertaining at her Carswell residence today with a coffee and buffet luncheon. Invited guests will be twelve girls from the University who are sorority members of the Zeta Chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi.

Capt. and Mrs. Taylor recently returned from a leave that took them to Denver, Davis Monthan AFB, Ariz., Ft. Worth, Tex. and Stillwater, Okla. They traveled in an Aero Club plane and had a delightful time visiting friends and family at their various stops.

Capt. and Mrs. Robert S. Patterson will depart from Lincoln this weekend on a two week leave. They will visit Mrs. Patterson's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jones in Corpus Christi, Tex.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Harold C. Morrison have a houseguest this weekend. Mrs. Morrison's nephew, David Bunte, arrived Thursday from Chicago.

Capt. and Mrs. Peter Kraska have the Captain's mother, Mrs. Frances Kraska visiting from Minneapolis. Mrs. Kraska will be in Lincoln for two weeks.

Mrs. William Barnicoat has her mother visiting from Polson, Montana. Mrs. F. W. Haight and Mrs. Barnicoat are thoroughly enjoying visiting and relaxing while Capt. Barnicoat is attending school at Chanute AFB, Ill.

Capt. and Mrs. Howard O. Evans had houseguests over the last holiday weekend. Capt. and Mrs. Joseph Striman and their three children arrived Thursday evening from McConnell AFB, Kan. and department on Sunday. Lt. Col. and Mrs. Hale Dodge had as their houseguest, Mrs. Dodge's sister, Mrs. Winston Church of Deighton, Kan.

Many LAFB residents will be happy to learn that Capt. and Mrs. Frank Wallis will be returning to Lincoln in June. Capt. Wallis has been in Viet Nam for the past year and Mrs. Wallis and their children have been residing in Sharon, Pa. After a remote assignment, Capt. Wallis had a choice of stations and chose Lincoln again. They are looking forward to renewing acquaintances.

Attendants Announced

A March bride-to-be who is announcing plans for her wedding is Miss Nancy Morris of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morris of Wapella, Ill., who has chosen Saturday, March 16, as the date for her marriage to Frank J. Jurica, Jr.

The ceremony will be solemnized at 6 o'clock in the evening at Epworth Methodist Church in the presence of family members and a small group of friends.

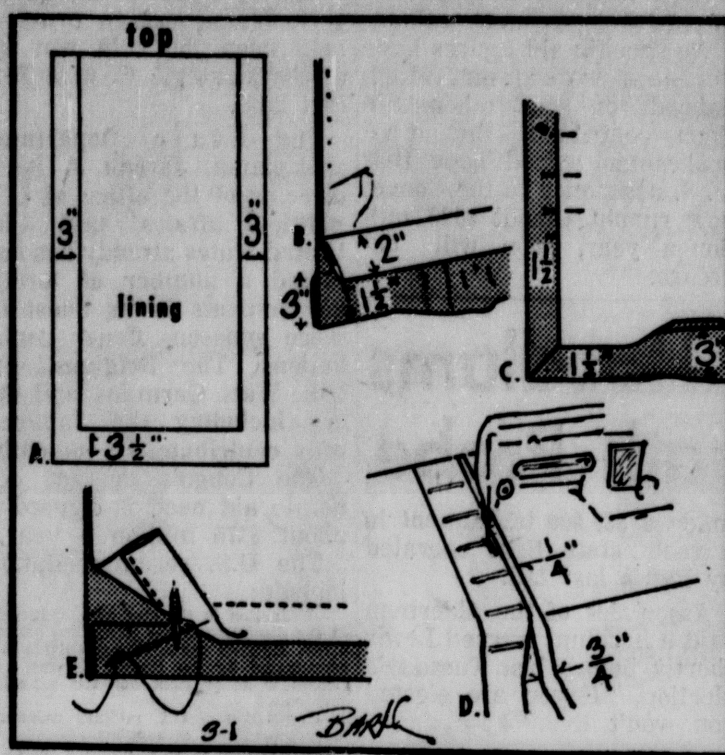

Miss Marilyn Filbert will attend Miss Morris as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Mrs. James Alam and Mrs. Hampton Hess.

Serving Mr. Jurica as best man will be Ralph Hitz.

In pre-nuptial courtesy to the bride-elect, Mrs. James Alam entertained at her home recently. During the informal evening, a linen shower was presented to Miss Morris.

A Lesson In Draperies

Patricia Scott

Last week I described how to measure various types of windows. Today I'll describe how to make lined draperies, one of the most popular window coverings.

1. The fabric must be straightened. Cut off all selvages; pull fabric, stretching it diagonally from opposite corners. It's a good idea to press before stitching.

2. To determine yardage: for length, measure from top of rod to where drapery ends (sill, apron or floor).

To this figure add seven inches for hems. Remember that the drapery will start at least a half-inch or more above the top of the rod, depending on the hooks you use. For width, measure the area to be covered. If draperies do not extend across an entire wall, you must add the "return" at each end of the rod to the width measurement. Fullness of the drapery should be two to 2½ times the area measurement. For instance, if the area measures 60 inches, you'll need at least 120 inches of drapery. If the fabric is the usual 48 inches in width, you'll need one width and at least 12 inches of another stitched to it for each drapery piece. All together, you'll need three widths.

3. Figure A illustrates the size of the lining in proportion to the drapery. The lining is cut 3½ inches shorter at bottom and six inches narrower (three inches on each side). Top edges are even.

4. Turn and stitch a three-inch double hem in drapery and a two-inch double hem in lining. Place lining and drapery right sides together with hem of lining 1½ inches above drapery hem. Baste and stitch sides together with a half-inch seam allowance (figure B).

5. Turn drapery to right side. Lay on flat surface and slide lining so that 1½ inch hems form on each side of lining with seams facing towards the center. At bottom, 1½ inches of drapery hem should show. Pin along sides and lower edge. Miter and hand-sew lower corners in place (figure C).

6. To keep lining in place, attach it and drapery hems with a three inch thread chain at center of panels. This can be done before lining and drapery are stitched together as shown in figure E, or right after step No. 5. Also blindstitch the seams together very loosely from eight inches below top to eight inches from bottom of drapery.

7. To attach pleater tape, turn down top edges of drapery and lining ¼ inch. Stitch tape ¼ inch from top along marked guide lines on tape. Make sure the hook pockets on the tape are equidistant from the sides of the drapery for the end hooks (figure D).

Weights or weighted tape are of great assistance in getting the drapery to hang evenly. Sew weights at sides of drapery before turning up hems, six inches up from bottom and at seams six inches up from bottom. Weighted tape is attached along the bottom of the drapery where the hem turns up.

We Hear That

Former Lincoln residents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Smith of Grand Junction, Colo., are the parents of a daughter, Patricia Ann, who was born on Thursday, Feb. 7. The newcomer, who, incidentally, was born on the birthday of her paternal grandfather, the late Stanley D. Smith, has four brothers and sisters, Donald, Michael, and twins, Rolie and Polly. Her mother will be remembered as the former Margaret Stoddard, Gamma Phi Beta at the University of Nebraska.

U.S. Proposes Massive Program To Aid Congo

Washington (AP)—The United States proposed Friday a broad aid program to make the Congo a self-supporting nation now that Katanga's secession is ended.

Recommendations by a U.S. mission headed by Assistant Secretary of State Harlan Cleveland, have been approved by President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean

Rusk and presented at the United Nations, a State Department spokesman said.

No specific aid figures have yet been worked out. Much depends on what other nations contribute. But the spokesman voiced hope that U. S. assistance to the Congo, now running about $120 million a year, soon will decrease.

Much of the outside assistance would continue under a U.N. framework in order to help keep the cold war out of the strategic Central African land.

The State Department spokesman, Joseph J. Sisco, director of the office of U.N. political affairs, said the United States already has contacted a number of foreign governments in its quest for more generous Congo contributions. The Belgians, British, West Germans and others including the Japanese may contribute, he indicated.

The Congo's current economic aid need is figured at about $175 million a year. The U.S. recommendations include:

- Reduction in the size and an increase in the discipline of the Congolese national army, through multinational outside aid coordinated by the United Nations, the Congolese government and the aid-giving countries.
- Limitation of U.S. military assistance to transportation of supplies.
- Withdrawal of U.S. military forces as rapidly as possible without leaving an "internal security gap" before Congolese security forces can take over.
- Efforts to increase financial efficiency to halt inflation, improve tax collection and put the economy in order so it will encourage growth.
- Assurance of a minimum level of essential imports through foreign aid. The United States would continue sending surplus food to the Congo, would supply some direct aid, mostly in loans, and continue economic development grants under the United Nations.

Cops Collar Hoodlums In Lewis' Death Probe

Chicago (UPI)—Police Friday night began a roundup of reputed policy racket hoodlums with crime syndicate ties to quiz them about alleged death threats received by alderman Benjamin F. Lewis before he was slain Thursday.

First to be questioned was Jimmy Wilson, 41, former heavy weight boxer under the name of Kid Riviera and aid to purported policy wheel operator Tommy Anderson, 51.

Anderson also was sought. Police said Wilson had an alibi for the time of the slaying but would be palm printed. Authorities found a palm print on a television set in the room where Lewis was shot to death.

Police said members of Lewis' family told them that the slain political leader received a threat from a hoodlum who thought Lewis knew the whereabouts of the hoodlum's wife.

Anderson also reportedly made a $35,000 investment in a real estate firm operated by Lewis last fall.

Associates of the alderman said a hoodlum warned Lewis shortly before last Tuesday's election, "If you are elected you won't live."

Meanwhile, swarms of undercover investigators attempted to thread their way through a maze of power politics, numbers racket intrigue and a planned business venture which may have clashed with suburban gangster loan company operations.

Small Plane Crashes In Sea Beside British Luxury Ship

Portsmouth, Va. (AP)—A small plane, far off course and apparently out of fuel, crash-landed astern of the Queen Elizabeth in the Atlantic Friday and plunged beneath the waves.

The British luxury liner immediately put about, but radioed the Coast Guard at Portsmouth, Va., she could find no survivors.

A stern lookout said the single-engine plane circled the ship and came in for a pancake landing in the ocean one-quarter mile off the stern at 7:10 a.m.

A Navy ship and two Coast Guard land-based planes continued a search for survivors during the day at the scene, 235 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras, N. C.

The Federal Aviation Agency in Washington said the pilot left San Juan, Puerto Rico, Thursday night for St. Petersburg, Fla.

Three versions of the name of the owner of the aircraft came from the FAA and the makers of the plane, but all agreed that his address was 1204 N. Linden St. Bloomington, Ill.

The FAA in Washington listed him as E. W. Harmon, the FAA in Oklahoma city as Donald William Haarmann, and Beech, the manufacturer in Wichita, Kan., recorded the original buyer as Donald W. Haarmann.

Miss Ora Larson said in Bloomington that the pilot probably was Donald W. Haarmann, 53, who she said had flown to Puerto Rico about 10 days ago. She said he planned to return to Illinois through Florida this weekend.

A friend and business associate of Haarmann for 20 years, she said he was a former Air Force colonel and retired in 1945. He was unmarried. She said they had been business associates for 17 years in a small engineering firm in Bloomington.

JOYCE BAUMANN

LELAND VOLKER

Joyce Baumann, Volker 'Independent' Royalty

Joyce Baumann of Hastings and Leland Volker of Humboldt were named queen and king of the independent students' spring ball Friday night at the University of Nebraska.

Miss Baumann, representing Fedde Hall, is the daughter of Don Baumann of Hastings. She is a home economics major, president of Fedde Hall and Phi Upsilon Omicron, vice president of the United Campus Christian Fellowship, and a member of the university's symphonic band and the University 4-H Club.

Volker, representing Burr Hall, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Volker of Humboldt. A major in dairy husbandry, his activities include Ag-Y, Varsity Dairy Club, Agriculture Executive Board treasurer and membership in Alpha Zeta.

The king and queen were chosen at the ball, which is organized by students who are not members of fraternities or sororities.

Other candidates for queen included Jane Fauquet of Plattsmouth, Barbara Fritchley of Lincoln, Sara Wagoner of Clarinda, Ia., and Janet Watson of Humboldt. Other king candidates were Bruce Hoiberg of Lincoln, Bennie Nelson of McCook, Bob Krummel of Wahoo and Gary Lee Winkelbauer of Milligan.

Woman Achieves Ambition; Settlement Exceeds Bobo's

Houston (AP)—Mrs. Cecil Blaffer Hudson, winner of $6.5 million in a divorce action, said Friday she achieved an ambition — she received a larger settlement than Bobo Rockefeller's $5.5 million.

Mrs. Hudson received the $6.5 million in domestic relations court from engineer-businessman Edward J. Hudson — adding to the already huge fortune she inherited from her father.

It was believed to be a record divorce settlement. Mrs. Rockefeller received her $5.5 million in 1954.

Brunette Mrs. Hudson, 43, mother of two sons and a patron of the arts, sighed: "At last it's over. I'm so happy I could sing."

The Hudsons were married in 1943. They separated in 1960 when he sued for divorce. Mrs. Hudson filed a

Robert Kennedy Denies He'll Be Candidate In '68

Washington (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy whipped out an "emphatically not" when asked if he is planning to run for president in 1968.

But the consensus among Washington politicians today is that time possibly could change what most of them feel is about the only reply the President's brother could make to such an inquiry at this point.

Interviewed during a limousine ride from a hotel speaking engagement to his Justice Department office, Kennedy tried to scotch some other rumors that have been bouncing around in Washington recently.

He said it is "completely ridiculous and untrue" that he might become his brother's secretary of state, with Dean Rusk moving to the United Nations as ambassador and Adlai E. Stevenson moving out in the political cold.

As to whether he is being groomed for a run at the 1968 Democratic presidential nomination, Kennedy's words were:

"Absolutely no. I don't even think about being president. I know that may sound funny to some people, but that's the truth."

With respect to his unusual role of presidential adviser, Kennedy had this to say:

"I try to do the best job I can running the Department of Justice as attorney general. It's a very important job. Sure, the President gets my advice on matters outside the department, just as he does from lots of others. But he weighs it, just as he does the advice of others, and then makes the decisions himself."

Court Orders Atlanta 'Wall' Ripped Down

Atlanta (UPI)—Atlanta's "Berlin wall" — a racial barrier of wood and steel 200 yards long — was torn down Friday on orders of a Fulton County superior court judge.

Judge George P. Whitman issued the order at the request of 10 Negro and white plaintiffs who objected to the barrier which had been erected by the city of Atlanta as a move against block busting.

Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. immediately ordered the barriers on Peyton Road and Harlan Road in southwest Atlanta removed and said he would ask the board of aldermen, who ordered the barrier installed last Dec. 17, not to appeal the judge's ruling.

The mayor also said he planned to declare certain areas in Atlanta "open housing areas." He announced plans to establish a real estate commission to prepare a code of ethics governing sale and use of properties in "transitional areas" between Negro and white communities "so that peace and harmony may prevail among all races in the city of Atlanta."

PANTHER SLAIN BY CROONER

Thousands Oaks, Calif. (UPI)—"Shucks, I can get it."

Cowboy singer Stuart Hamblen made that comment to his wife Friday morning when they heard a radio news broadcast about a search for a potentially dangerous black panther that escaped from its cage at Jungleland, a private zoo.

Friday afternoon Hamblen shot the hunted animal after his specially trained dogs rousted it out from under a building on the grounds of the Jungleland compound. The wounded panther ran under another building where more shots were fired and its body was dragged out a half-hour after first being sighted.

The 60-pound, 2-year-old panther escaped from its cage Thursday morning and apparently had kept hidden within the zoo grounds while sheriff's deputies and professional trackers searched nearby hills.

Animal handlers at Jungleland had described the animal as potentially dangerous and residents of the area not far from the heavily-populated Los Angeles suburbs were warned to "keep the children in the house."

Firemen Work Week Bill Passed

A bill to reduce the work week of paid firemen was passed 38-1 by Nebraska's Legislature Friday.

Sen. Frank Nelson of O'Neill cast the dissenting vote.

Under the measure, LB27, the maximum work week, now 72 hours, will be reduced to a maximum of 68 hours starting next Jan. 1; to 64 hours a year later and level off at a maximum of 60 effective Jan. 1, 1966.

As originally drawn, LB27, called for a one-step reduction from 72 to 60 hours, but the step-by-step reduction later was adopted by amendment.

The bill was introduced by Sens. George H. Fleming of Sidney, Eugene T. Mahoney of Omaha and Jerome Warner of Waverly.

Six other bills were passed Friday, all of them minor corrective type measures suggested by the state's revisor of statutes.

District Court Felony Case Ruling Wrong—High Court

The State Supreme Court held Friday that the Douglas County District Court was in error when it discharged M. Robert Fromkin from felony charges.

The order of discharge was entered March 17, 1962 after two separate trials both had resulted in hung juries.

The charge against Fromkin was filed Feb. 4, 1960, and the appeal was related to the question of whether Fromkin had been granted the speedy trial which the Constitution and state law grant to citizens.

State law says a person is entitled to be discharged if not brought to trial before the end of the third term of the court following indictment.

The first hung jury mistrial occurred during the third term in Fromkin's case in September of 1960. The district court held that the mistrial without verdict does not constitute compliance with the statute, but the Supreme Court disagreed.

"To construe the words in the statute, 'brought to trial,' to mean, in effect a mandatory requirement that the trial must result in verdict would do violence to the plain meaning of the statutory language," the Supreme Court opinion said.

The high court held also that there was no abuse of discretion by the court in calling Fromkin up for second trial in May of 1961 and remanded the case to District Court for proceedings in conformity with this opinion.

In other rulings Friday the court:

—Affirmed the judgment of the Lancaster District Court in awarding $1,250 to Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Johnson of Lincoln for a sanitary sewer easement.

—Appraisers appointed by the county court had awarded the couple no damages to the Johnsons appealed to district court where a jury trial resulted in the $1,250 award. The city then appealed to the Supreme Court.

references in law relating to motor vehicles. (37-0).
LB155 (Judiciary)—Deleting obsolete matter and harmonizing law relating to state assistance. (38-0).
LB156 (Judiciary)—Clarifying provisions of law relating to public health. (38-0).
LB157 (Judiciary)—Harmonizing provisions of law relating to public lands and buildings. (39-0).

There is no indication in the record that the trial court abused its sound legal discretion," the Supreme Court concluded.

Reversed the Dawson County District Court and ordered a new trial in a suit for damages arising out of the similarity of names of two grocery stores in Lexington.

The Sixth Street Locker and Grocery Co. brought the action against the Sixth Street Food Store, after the latter set up business in Lexington in 1959 and prominently displayed the name "Sixth Street."

The locker and grocery firm, which has been operating in Lexington since 1950, contended it suffered damages by the use of the name "Sixth Street" by the new food store.

The defendants firm argued they had a right to use the name "Sixth Street" because it operated similar stores in North Platte and Ogallala under the same name for many years.

The Supreme Court, however, ruled the locker and grocery co. has a cause of action and that the district court erred in dismissing its suit.

Overruled the Douglas County District Court and upheld the validity of two zoning regulations by the City of Omaha.

The district court was ordered to dismiss the action by Frederick H. Bucholz over other property owners against the city.

The district court had ruled that the ordinances reasoning a plot known as the Waxenberg land were void. The plaintiffs own property near the rezoned real estate.

The Waxenberg land is located outside the city but within three miles of it in Douglas County. The new zoning permits erection of a shopping center.

The action by the city council was taken over the objections of the city's planning board.

The Supreme Court noted the city has the power to zone within its confines and for three miles outside. The only restrictions are that such zoning "must not be unreasonable, discriminatory or arbitrary and it must bear some relationship to the purpose or purposes to be accomplished by the ordinance."

The Supreme Court determined the zoning in this case was within the legal powers of the council.

Affirmed a Sheridan County District Court ruling which said Ella Mae Dorshorst, widow of Theodore B. Dorshorst, was entitled to a widow's allowance.

The son and 4 daughters by a former marriage of her late husband, Theodore B. Dorshorst, attempted to bar payment of the widow's allowance after his death.

They contended she was barred from any claim on the estate because of an antenuptial agreement by which she and Dorshorst agreed neither would make a claim on the estate of the other.

The court, however, determined that prenuptial contracts can only be enforced when they comply with the form laid out by statute. The court said the agreement in this case did not, and that based on common law, it is not enforceable.

Landing Barge, Boat

Saigon, Viet Nam, (P)—Communist guerrillas counter-attacked a South Vietnamese operation in the southern tip of the country.

Military sources said the Communists opened fire on a government landing barge and 3 armored boats from the banks of a canal.

The government troops routed the guerrillas with the help of reinforcements. Government losses were 5 wounded.

Several guerrillas were believed hit.

...THE BAR OF JUSTICE IN MY COURT.

"Man must pay for the error he makes, the sin he commits...he must reap what he sows." Surely God tempers justice with mercy in His judgments upon us every day. It is that way too, in this judge's court, because he thinks principally of salvation for the man before him. Too often transgressors, both young and old, resent the kindly-intended judge. He sits in court to serve his country and the will of God. It would be well to remember that God shall bring every work into judgment. And that people who go to church more, go to court less.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 5 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 5, add 4. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. HUSKERS QUALIFY 12 TO LEAD

...NU-Missouri Battle Set Up In Today's Finals

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Editor

Kansas City, Mo.—Only a surprising nosedive in the broad jump by Victor Brooks kept the Nebraska Cornhuskers from gaining a commanding position in the 38th annual Big 8 Track and Field Meet preliminaries here Friday night.

As it is, the Cornhuskers—who kayoed Kansas in stunning fashion early—are slated to battle tooth and tong with the potent Missouri Tigers in tonight's finals.

Brooks came into the meet with a loop-leading mark of 24-1/2 and hadn't been under 22-11/4 inside. But he scratched 4 times and managed only a feeble 18-9 in the prelims, failing to make the finals.

Husker Rudy Johnson picked up one point in the broad jump by going 22-11/4 to take 5th in the only final event of the night.

Charles Strong of Oklahoma State successfully defended his title with a fine leap of 24-6 and also qualified for the 440 where he'll be going after a 3rd straight crown—and he's been hampered by a pulled groin muscle.

Coach Frank Sevigne's Scarlets prepared for the title bid, which escaped them last year by 11/12 of a point, by leading the qualifying with 12 men.

Missouri pressed with 10 to get up the Tiger-Husker dual tonight. Colorado qualified 7, Oklahoma 6, Kansas 4, Oklahoma State and Iowa State 3 each, and Kansas State 2.

Brooks' collapse in the broad jump was mild compared to the colossal flop staged by Gale Sayers of Kansas.

The Omaha griddy-sprinter-hurdler was slated to lead the Jayhawks in defense of their indoor crown. Instead, he can stay in Lawrence tonight.

Sayers failed to qualify in the 60-yard dash, low hurdles and did not place in the broad jump—all his pet specialties.

Ironically, it was Nebraska which erased Sayers from the 60, the event in which he had the best pre-meet time.

Kent McCloughan clobbered his former high school opponent in a preliminary heat, won by the Huskers in :06.3. And in the semifinals, both McCloughan and Steve Pfister finished ahead of Sayers.

Pfister and the Jayhawk battled furiously down the boards, with the Husker nailing him at the string for 3rd place to oust Sayers. Pfister has placed in only one pre-Big 8 meet prior to dumping Sayers.

With 3 qualifiers in the 60, and a pair in the 600, 880, 1,000 and low hurdles, Nebraska is in good shape for the challenge. The Huskers failed to land a finalist only in the 440 and the shot put, which they did not enter.

Nebraska had two double qualifiers in Fred Wilke (highs and lows) and Ray Knaub (60 and lows). Wilke is defending champion in the lows, but he'll have to go some to retain his title tonight.

Teammate Knaub tied the meet record with a :6.7 and Colorado's Jim Miller did likewise in his semifinal heat.

In the 600, the Huskers qualified Gil Gebo and Bill Kenny, with Gebo winning his heat easily in 1:12.8. Kenny was edged by record-holder Greg Pelster of Missouri.

NU's Mike Fleming won his 1,000 prelim in a slow 2:18.5, coming from last to first on the last lap, while John Portee also qualified. Ray Stevens and Jim Wendt will be the 880 entries, but Gebo failed in a bid to double.

Missouri qualified in every event except the 440 and doubled up in the 60, highs and lows.

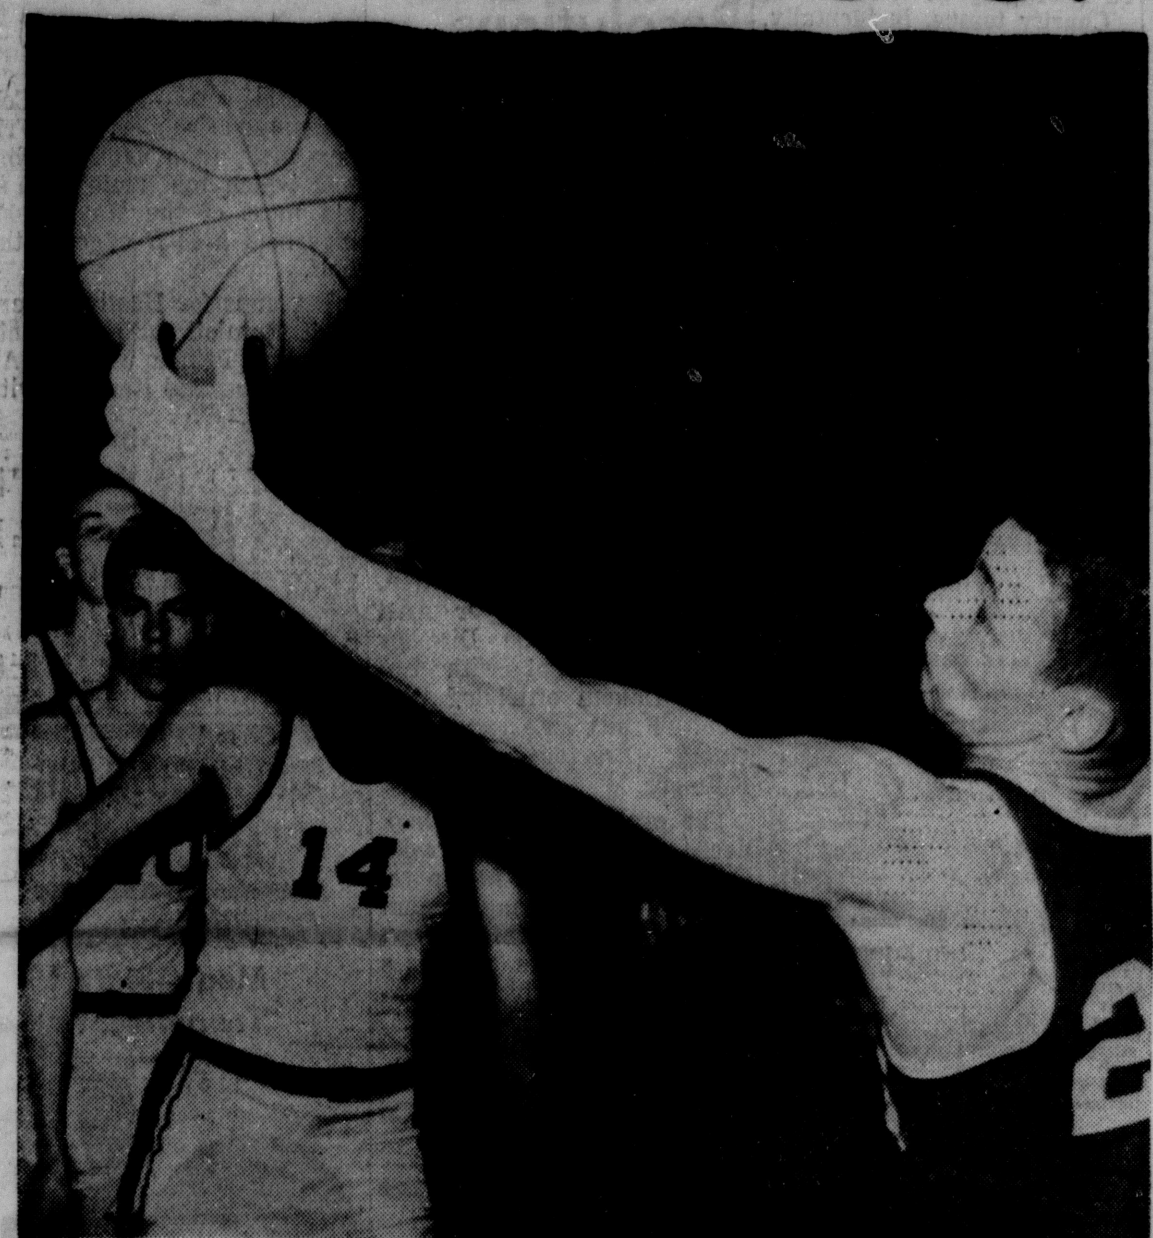

Nebraska will have to get its title on the boards unless high jumper Harry Krebs and pole vaulter Juris Jesifers catch fire tonight.

In addition to the shorter races, the Huskers hope to score heavily in the mile — with Fleming and Stevens — and get help from Larry Toothaker in the 2-mile and a fresh mile relay team.

Missouri has a fine 2-miler in Roy Bryant, plus a potential point-getter in the pole vault and 6-7/8 high jumper Ross Tunnell.

Chances are the finals will be a repeat of the skintight finish in 1962 — except the battlers will be Missouri and Nebraska. Perennial kingpin Kansas, with only 4 qualifiers and Gale Sayers in civies, appears doomed for its poorest showing under Bill Easton.

Fights Mar KU-MU Game

... KANSAS WINS FOR 6TH-PLACE TIE

Lawrence, Kan. (AP) — Kansas defeated Missouri 72-68 Friday night in a Big 8 Conference basketball game marred by two fist fights.

The game left the two teams tied for 6th place with records 4-8.

Nolen Ellison, Kansas captain, was ejected with 1 minute, 14 seconds left for starting a fight with Ken Doughty of Missouri. Doughty remained in the game. While Ellison and Doughty battled, Al Correll of Kansas and George Flamank of Missouri had a brief scuffle.

Pius X Wins, 65-58 After Strong Battle

Nebraska City — Pius X downed Nebraska City, 65-58, Friday night in a nip and tuck battle.

Fireworks began in the first quarter when Pius X, trailing, 13-9, opened the throttle and charged to a 16-15 lead within one minute of play.

Nebraska City, wasn't to be discouraged by Pius X's sudden scoring surge though as it continued to exchange baskets right up to the halftime buzzer, tying the score 5 different times.

A 2-pointer dropped through by the Thunderbolt's Dale Champoux in the last 20 seconds gave Pius X a slim 28-27 halftime lead.

The nip and tuck game looked like it might have ended as Pius X started the 3rd quarter and took a 49-37 lead.

Nebraska City came to life in the 4th quarter, but couldn't muster the strength to overcome the Thunderbolts' 3rd-quarter advance.

Probably what caused Nebraska City's downfall in the 3rd period was Pius X's full-court press which held Nebraska City to 10 points.

A respectable 24 points by Pius X's Dale Churchill also added zest to the Thunderbolt's attack. And sparking Nebraska City was Dave Zimmers, who dropped 17 points through.

THREE HUSKER GRIDDERS HELP SET PIANO-BUSTING RECORD

The piano busting fad reached the University of Nebraska campus Friday afternoon.

Five sturdy students, including 3 varsity football players, demolished a piano in 4 minutes and 47 seconds, and immediately claimed they had set a new record.

They said their time was 4 seconds faster than that established by a group of Delta Chi fraternity members at Wayne State University in Detroit. Wayne State topped a record claimed by a group of Cal Tech students. A Cal Tech student who witnessed the demolishing act at both his own school and at Nebraska, conceded the Huskers were the new champs.

The event attracted several hundred onlookers.

The 5 University of Nebraska wreckers, all members of the Phi Kappa Psi social fraternity, are: Larry Donovan, Bob Pesek, Dwain Carlson, Dave Theisen, and Kendall Early.

In addition to smashing the piano to bits, the rules of the competition call for stuffing the pieces through a hole 9 inches in diameter.

PACKERS SURPRISE BY 51-47

Lincoln High closed out its regular season play with a 9-6 record Friday night at the PSA Building, absorbing a 51-47 defeat at the hands of Omaha South.

A brief cold spell and mechanical errors in the final period killed the Links' hopes for victory. Except for that spell, when Lincoln High dropped behind by 8 at 49-41 late in the contest, the Links were in contention all the way and held periodic leads.

Leading only 38-35 entering the final period, the Packers racked up 7 points in just over two minutes — 4 of those points coming on easy layups when the Links' defense was caught napping. Meanwhile, the Links could garner but a single bucket as they were plagued by numerous mistakes.

Closed Gap

The Capital City club closed the gap in the last 1:18 after trailing by 49-41, but time ran out.

South commanded a 17-10 first quarter lead on a jump shot by Dennis Kirschenman with 4 seconds before the buzzer. However, the Red and Black cut the margin to 26-24 with less than a minute remaining in the half on a shot by reserve Bob McKay, and went into the intermission trailing by only 28-26.

No more than 3 points separated the clubs during the 3rd period. Big Frank Brill gave the Links their first lead since the opening quarter when he hit on a turning jump shot at 30-29 with less than two minutes played in the half. Mike Glenn's bucket shortly later, which put the Links back ahead at 32-31, provided the Links with their last lead of the night.

Briscoe Stars

Marlin Briscoe, South's fine guard, sparked with his floor play and led both clubs with 16 points. Bob Vasatka, who tallied 11 of his 13 points before the intermission, and Brill with 10 points led the Lincoln High scoring.

Probe Results Will Be Made Public

Detroit (AP)—Detroit Lions stockholders were told that National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle will make public within 30 days results of his probe of gamblers and some NFL players.

William Clay Ford, president of the Lions, made the disclosure at the stockholders annual meeting.

The Lions have a special interest in the Rozelle report since Lion tackle Alex Karras admitted on a national television show several weeks ago that he had bet on games in which he played.

Karras first said he bet only cigarettes or such items, but he later said he had bet $5 or $10 on some games.

Husker Cage Squad Meets OU Tonight

Nebraska's basketball team, finally broke a 10-game losing streak with an upset of Oklahoma State Monday night, will square off in a rubber match with Oklahoma at the Coliseum tonight. Game time is 8:05 p.m.

Bush was elated with the play of the Cornhuskers against Oklahoma State. It was NU's first victory since December 29 when the Cornhuskers outran Oklahoma, 93-86, in the preseason tournament at Kansas City.

The triumph over the Cowpokes brought the Cornhusker record to 6-16 with 3 games remaining. After the home finale with Oklahoma, Nebraska plays Colorado and Missouri on the road next Monday and Wednesday, respectively.

Veterans Returning

Coach Don Skakle, whose North Carolina tennis team won its 5th straight Atlantic Coast Conference title last spring, will have every player back next spring. The team compiled a 22-1 record.

University Tips Blair By 53-49

Blair —Lincoln University High put the clamps on Blair in the second half here Friday night and gained a 53-49 victory in a battle of rated Class B clubs.

The win over the 7th-ranked Bears closed out the 5th-rated Tutors' regular season and gives Uni a 14-2 mark for the year.

The Tutors got off to a slow start and found themselves down by 17-8 early in the contest and 17-11 at the end of the first quarter.

Coach Dale Snook then inserted Clair Coley in the lineup and the Uni attack began to pick up momentum. The Tutors pushed through 18 points in the second period, but still lagged by 6, 35-29, at the intermission break.

The Blair offense had experienced its better moments however, as the Tutors held the Bears to a mere 14 points in the last two quarters.

Larry Hansen, 6-5 Blair center, could manage only 7 points in the last 16 minutes after pouring through 17 markers in the first half. Tim Brown was completely blanked in the last half after finding the range for 12 points in the first two quarters.

University meanwhile gathered 12 points in each of the last two quarters to achieve the final 4-point victory margin.

City scoring leader George Zarins notched 20 points to pace the Uni attack. Steve Butts added 11.

Cedar Bluffs Wins C Meet

... RALLY EARNS VICTORY

Wahoo-Cedar Bluffs staged a stunning second half comeback to down Valley, 55-49, and win the Class C district championship here Friday night.

Trailing by 12 points with two minutes remaining in the 3rd period, Cedar Bluffs pulled to a 49-49 tie with 1:29 left in the final stanza, then went ahead to seal the victory.

Valley trailed by two, 14-12, at the first quarter mark, but reversed the deficit in the second canto and held a 27-25 margin at half.

Cedar Bluffs totaled only two points in the first 6 minutes of the 3rd period, but then went to work and scored 9 in the last two minutes and pulled to within 5, 41-36, going into the final period.

Sherman Thurlow led the 19-point last quarter barrage for Cedar Bluffs with 7 points. Veryl Jensen sank a fielder with 1:29 showing to tie the score at 49-49, then added a charity toss to put Cedar Bluffs ahead to stay.

Valley failed to score in the last 4 minutes, and made only 8 points in the 4th quarter while Cedar Bluffs totaled 28 points in the last 10 minutes.

Thurlow led the winners with 18 points. Rick Samson had 16 for Valley's high.

Cedar Bluffs: 14 11 11 19-35
Valley: 12 15 14 8-49
Winners high: Sherman Thurlow, 18; losers high: Rick Samson, 16.

Pawnee City Wins Crown In C District

Pawnee City — Pawnee City withstood a 4th period Odell rally to win the championship of the Class C district tournament here Friday night.

Dave Anderson led Odell's last period rally that fell short of victory by 3 points, 52-49.

Pawnee City held a slim 14-12 margin at the first quarter mark, and increased the margin to 28-22 at intermission.

Pawnee City netted 21 points in the 3rd period to have a 49-37 lead entering the stretch drive.

Anderson scored 10 of Odell's 12 points in the final quarter, but Pawnee City's 3 points in the same stanza was just enough to put the victory out of reach of Odell. Anderson led game scorers with a 21-point total. Roger Peacock was the winner's top scorer with 17 and Mack Martin, the only other senior on Pawnee City's young squad, added 11.

Pawnee City: 14 14 21 3-32
Odell: 12 15 12 13-49
Winners high: Roger Peacock, 17; losers high: Dave Anderson, 21.

Sayers Beaten But OU Wins

Omaha (A) — Omaha University ran away with a quadrangular indoor track meet Friday night with a score of 70 — almost 3 times that of the nearest challenger, Graceland College of Iowa — but the startling event was the defeat of Omaha's Roger Sayers by a teammate.

Sayers trailed Bruce Hunter of Omaha U in the 60-yard low for his first loss in that event. Hunter's time was 7.1 seconds.

Another standout was Omaha's Terry Williams, ex-Omaha Central speedster competing in his first meet for Omaha. He tied the varsity record of .06.1 in the 60-yard dash, the same time credited to Sayers. Sayers was declared the winner, however.

Williams also tied the varsity record of .50.9 to win the 440-yard dash, the time posted by Sayers last year.

NU Frosh Cagers Meet Kansas St.

Nebraska's freshman basketball team will meet Kansas State freshmen at 5:45 p.m. Saturday at the Coliseum.

The young Wildcats clipped the Cornhuskers 78-45 at Manhattan but the showing of NU yearlings against Kansas, in a 66-63 loss, leads Coach Bob Gates to believe that his charges will be ready to reverse the earlier score.

Beaver Crossing Wins Title In Class D Meet At Seward

... DOWNS HAMPTON BY 59-49

Seward — Beaver Crossing picked up its 3rd victory of the season over Hampton here Friday night and in doing so won the Class D district basketball crown.

Wayne Miller, one of two seniors on the Beaver Crossing team, poured in 17 points, and Gary Blum added 16 as the Beavers downed Hampton 59-49.

A packed house of some 1200 people viewed the action as Hampton was forced to play catch-up ball after falling behind 16-9 in the first quarter.

Beaver Crossing maintained a 25-20 intermission advantage and stretched its margin to 44-39 entering the stretch.

Coach Larry Buhl will take the Beavers into a Class D regional at Milford next week, where he is likely to run into Class D defending state champion Polk.

High scorer for Hampton Friday night was Scott Olson with 13 points.

Beaver Crossing: 16 9 19 15-59
Hampton: 9 11 19 10-49
Winners high: Wayne Miller, 17; losers high: Scott Olson, 13.

Stella, Steinauer Advance To D Finals At Falls City

Falls City — Stella needed two overtime hours Friday night to down Elk Creek 64-63 and gain the finals of the Class D district basketball tournament.

Steinauer had less trouble in defeating Shubert 59-43 in the other semifinal action of the evening.

Elk Creek earned a 31-27 lead at intermission, but Stella came back to take a 46-45 lead at the 3rd quarter mark.

The score was tied 56-56 at the end of regulation play and both clubs netted two points in the first overtime to maintain the tie, 58-58.

Stella potted 6 points to Elk Creek's 5 in the deciding second overtime.

John Banks led the winners with 24, but Lavelle Hitz-man was the top scorer of the night with 29 for Elk Creek. Steinauer jumped to a 15-10 first period lead, but Shubert pulled to within two at half, 20-18.

Steinauer netted 18 points in the 3rd period then added 21 in the last stanza to seal the win.

Bill Rinne led game scorers with 20 for the winners. Wayne Alexander totaled 11 for Shubert.

Finals are slated for 8:00 Friday.

Stella: 17 10 19 10-64
Elk Creek: 16 15 14 11-63
Winners high: John Banks, 24; losers high: Lavelle Hitzman, 29.

Steinauer: 15 5 18 21-59
Shubert: 10 8 17-43
Winners high: Bill Rinne, 20; losers high: Wayne Alexander, 11.

Tecumseh Captures Class C District Title At Milford

... WEeping WATER FALLS, 64-49

Milford — Balanced Tecumseh spurted away from Weeping Water here Friday night to win 64-49 and capture the Class C-2 district tournament.

Weeping Water, down 15 points late in the 3rd quarter, rallied to close the gap to 3 twice in the final period.

The losing Indians were down, 44-41, with 7:48 to play and 48-45 with 6:09 remaining. Tecumseh then whipped in 12 points while Weeping Water went scoreless.

John Meeske was the whole show for Weeping Water.

The skinny 5-11 senior scored 30 points — 18 of them in the first half. He accounted for his club's first 9 points and its first 7 of 8 initial half field goals.

Meeske tallied 13 field goals. As a team, Weeping Water had 21 fielders. Meeske notched 4 out of 5 free throw tries — Weeping Water's team total was 7-for-15.

Tecumseh's well-balanced attack was led by junior Chuck Lacey's 20. Fourteen of his total came in the first half.

Gary Waring had 16, six of them in the 5-minute 4th quarter spurt. Mike Kavanaugh and Bob Dillaplain each contributed 10 and controlled the backboards.

Tecumseh will oppose Pawnee City in the playoff at Lincoln Northeast next Wednesday.

Tecumseh: 20 14 10 20-64
Weeping Water: 11 12 16 10-49
Winners high: Chuck Lacey, 20; Losers high: John Meeske, 30.

De Witt Wins D Meet With Fast-Scoring Finish

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Fairbury — Last-second swishers came wholesale here in a blazing Class D tourney finish, but De Witt rang up the ones that really registered.

Coach Ron Joekel's defending district champs barely put off upset-minded Alexandria, 39-36, as 4 Lion fielders connected in the last 3 minutes. Three of these were by little Jim Harold, a 5-9 sophomore who totaled up 16 points to lead the losers.

A bucket by De Witt's Doug Tietjen helped lengthen a win string to 17-0, however, as did 3 key free throws. Two of the latter came from Larry Wattjes after the buzzer had halted floor play at 37-36.

Charity tosses, incidentally, were well used by both clubs. De Witt collected 9 of 11 and Alexandria 10 of 14 — the losers missing 4 straight in the 3rd quarter.

The Saline Countians, state runners-up last year, found themselves in an unusual uphill situation much of the first half after a scoreless 5-minute start. They overtook Alexandria just before intermission, but couldn't stretch beyond easy reach.

As usual De Witt's scoring showed overall strength, Tietjen and Wattjes hitting 13 and 10, Jim Holtmeier, 11.

The win will bracket De Witt in next Thursday's play-off at Beatrice. Coach Howard Jackson's 5 finished with a 19-5 season showing.

De Witt: 4 15 8 13-39
Alexandria: 8 9 13-36
Winners high: Doug Tietjen, 13; losers high: Jim Harold, 16.

NAIA Tourney May Transfer

Kansas City (A) — The possibility that decreasing gate receipts may force the National Intercollegiate Athletic Association to transfer its annual basketball tournament to another city was raised Friday.

Al Duer, executive secretary of the NAIA, asked the city council to consider giving the small college athletic organization rent-free use of the municipal auditorium for the tournament. This year's tournament takes place March 11-16.

It has been held in Kansas City 26 years. Duer estimated that receipts have dropped more than $10,000 the last 6 tournaments.

The council referred Duer's request to an investigating committee.

Grell's Late Shot Wins For Rockets

... NORFOLK DROPPED, 31-29

A last second basket by Stan Grell boosted Northeast to a 31-29 victory over upset-minded Norfolk Friday night.

Grell's close-in shot climaxed a 14-point final period output for NE, as the Rockets played catch-up throughout the first 3 quarters.

The defending state champion Rockets are now 7-8 on the season and conclude the regular campaign at Bellevue tonight. Norfolk, which upset 3rd ranked Columbus for its top win of the season, ended the year with a 5-12 mark.

The Panthers played a deliberate, slow down type of ball game — the type that defeated Columbus.

Norfolk took the lead with 6:53 left in the first period, 9-7, and did not relinquish it until 3:21 remained in the final period.

NE's Art Scott canned a jump shot to tie the game at 27-27. Then Jerry Motz tapped in an errant casting to give NE a 29-27 lead with 26 seconds left.

Except for this and the final score, the last time NE had the advantage in the game was 7-6 with 7:39 left in the first period.

With 18 seconds left, the game's star, Norfolk's Bob Noyes, calmly hit two free throws to tie the game again. Then Grell scored his winning basket.

Noyes paced Norfolk with 18 points. He hit 5 field goals and connected on 8 of 12 from the free throw line. Noyes continually drove around NE defenders to score on easy lay-ups. He scored 5 of Norfolk's 7 field goals.

Grell and playmaker Terry Monk led the Rockets scoring with 6 points apiece. Monk kept NE in the ball game the second half by tallying all his points after the intermission.

Larry Hubka's second half contribution of 4 points and numero us rebounds also sparked NE's win.

Liston Back In Training; Clay Needsles

Miami Beach, Fla. (P)—Sonny Liston returned to the ring Friday to resume training for defense of his world heavyweight boxing title against Floyd Patterson here April 10.

Liston went 10 rounds of shadow boxing and bag punching to test the knee his handlers said he wrenched while swinging a golf club 10 days ago.

The champion showed no evidence of the injury, his trainers said, but ringside observers said he had a "rubber tire" around the middle and plainly showed effects of the layoff.

Cassius Clay was a spectator and the two exchanged sharp barbs. Clay needed Liston about giving him a chance at the title and at one point, Liston shot back, "when you're ready, you've got it."

At one point Liston walked over to the ropes separating the two, doubled up his fist and drew back as if to throw a punch but Manager Jack Nilon stepped between them. "You never know when this guy is kidding or serious," Nilon said.

Radio-TV Rights Sell For Baseball At $14 Million

New York (P)—The 20 major league baseball clubs will collect $14 million for radio-television rights this season, with a record total of 957 games going on TV screens, a trade survey showed.

Contracts for broadcast rights range from $1.2 million for the World Championship New York Yankees to $300,000 for the Washington Senators.

The Los Angeles Dodgers will collect $1 million for their radio rights and nine TV road games.

In addition, NBC and CBS each will pay just over $1 million to the 12 teams who will appear on their weekend telecasts, the survey from Television Age showed.

The World Series and All-Star Game are a $4.25 million package.

The magazine also estimated that sponsors will spend about $24 million for air time, announcer salaries and other expenses, to bring the total broadcast outlay to $45 million.

Winds Cause No Problems For Rosburg

New Orleans (P)—Bob Rosburg found the tricky winds at Lakewood Country Club anything but troublesome Friday and fired a record 67 for the first-round lead in the $40,000 Greater New Orleans Open.

Finishing at noon with his 5-under-par 36-31, the pudgy Rosburg — who grips a club like a baseball bat — kept in the lead even through the breezes slackened and other players were able to conquer par.

Another veteran, Bo Winger, the defending champion, shot a 36-32—68 for second place while young Dave Marr finished 3rd with a 33-36—69.

Gary Player, the little South African, carded a 70 for the best score among the golf world's Big 3 — Arnold Palmer, Jackie Nicklaus and Player.

Palmer and Nicklaus, playing in the same threesome, found the going rougher and turned in 74s.

CASSIUS SENDS CHALLENGE TO VILLAGE BEATS

New York (P)—Cassius Clay, the bard of boxing, may be over-matched next Thursday.

That's when the renowned Louisville Lip will take on a group of beatnik poets in free-for-all in a Greenwich Village restaurant during lunch time.

The bearded boxer spent the following challenge to his beat opponents:

"I'm a poet, and I'll be glad to show it: "These others are fakes: Who'll end up with the shakes."

In advising the press of this momentous event, the boxing department also pointed out Friday that Clay, the unbeaten heavyweight contender, will meet Doug Jones, the New York contender, at the Garden, March 13.

Cubans To Send Only 80 To Pan-Am Games

Boys Town Stuns Knights

A flood of free throws in the 4th quarter enabled Boys Town to come from behind and gain a surprise 52-50 victory over Lincoln Southeast at the Knights' gym Friday night.

Ten of the 12 Boys Town points came at the charity stripe in the last period. Dave McGuire's pair of free tosses with 43 seconds left in the game pushed Boys Town to a 51-50 lead and decided the contest.

The scrap was closely contended all the way. Boys Town grabbed an 18-12 first-quarter lead but the Knights pulled back to within two at halftime, 27-25.

Gates Spurts

With an 8-point spurt by Dave Gates providing most of the impetus, Southeast managed a 40-40 tie after 3 quarters.

The Knights then advanced to a 50-44 margin with 2:56 left in the last period and appeared to have victory No. 7 in sight.

But George Gray then started Boys Town on the comeback trail by hitting his team's lone field goal of the quarter to make the score, 50-46, with 1:40 left. Seconds later Gray meshed two free throws and McGuire added another on a technical infraction to bring Boys Town to within one, 50-49.

The SE scoring drought continued as McGuire added his go-ahead free throws. Joe Arellano notched point No. 52 for Boys Town with :28 remaining and the Omaha club blanked the Knights the rest of the way.

Coach Bob Lohrberg received a fine performance from Gates. The 6-5 senior topped the Knights' scorers with 12 points.

McGuire meshed 22 points for Boys Town; Gray added 12.

The appearance was last of the season in regular play for Southeast and closed out the Knights' record at 6-9.

Archbishop Bans Prejudice Of Race

Baltimore (AP) — Archbishop Lawrence J. Shehan, spiritual leader of 430,000 Roman Catholics in Maryland, officially banned and condemned Friday all racial discrimination and prejudice in his archdiocese.

The 65-year-old prelate also urged his flock to make integration part of their personal relationships. He specifically mentioned public accommodations, housing and crime.

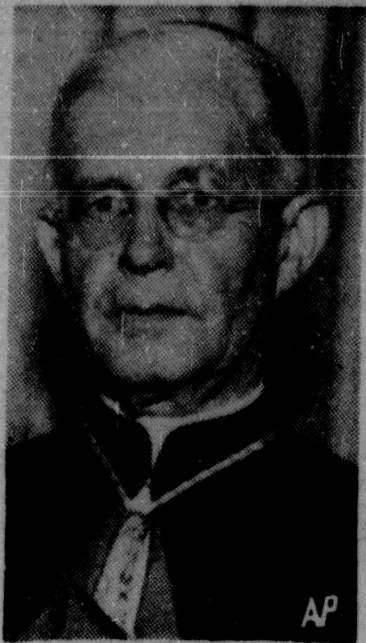

In a 3,000-word pastoral letter published in the diocesan weekly newspaper, the Catholic Review, Archbishop Shehan banned discrimination based on racial or social origin from all Catholic schools, churches, social organizations and charitable institutions.

A similar edict by Archbishop Joseph Rummel of New Orleans, in September, 1961, desegregated Catholic schools of his archdiocese. Catholic schools in the Baltimore archdiocese already are integrated.

Archbishop Shehan said the Christian faith imposes a special duty of justice and charity toward all men and "within this household of the faith, there can be no room for racial discrimination."

"We Catholics must acknowledge," he wrote, "that we have been all too slow in the correction of our shortcomings, although in the light of the experience of many of our forefathers, we should have been particularly sensitive to the unjust inequalities suffered by other groups."

"For this reason, we have

a special obligation to place ourselves in the forefront of movements to remove the injustices and discriminations which still remain."

Prominent Catholic Laymen praised the archbishop for his stand.

Home Fires Kill 12 Children, Youth

By United Press International

Home fires, one of the most complicated by a tie-up on a party telephone line, killed 12 children and a heroic 18-year-old youth Thursday night and Friday.

Five young children and their teen-age brother who tried to rescue them perished in a fire that swept their 1½-story frame home at Sayre, Pa., Friday. All died of suffocation.

The bodies of Allen Johnston, 18, his brothers, William, 9, and Kevin, 6, and sisters, Jane, 4, and Carol, 3, were found huddled together in a second floor bedroom.

Trapped

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Johnston, the parents, who escaped the blaze with 3 other children, said Allen was trapped with the 4 children when he dashed up stairs to try to save them.

Frozen fire hydrants and 9-degree temperature hampered firemen. Firemen said the fire broke out around a chimney on the second floor.

The lives of 4 children were snuffed out in a fire that razed their 4-room frame home in an all-Negro community about one mile south of Wardell, Mo.

Bodies Found

Dead were Anna May Commander, 8, Bobby Jean, 6, Eugene, 4, and Imogene, 2. Their bodies were found in a bedroom where the children slept in one bed. They were the children of Mrs. Robbie Lee Commander, 35.

The mother and 6 other persons fled to safety.

Deputy Sheriff Raymond Ings said he believed the blaze originated in a bucket placed under a leaky oil line near a stove to catch dripping oil.

Line Tie-Up

The party line tie-up delayed fire fighters in reaching a fire at Ashfield, Mass., which killed 4 children in a 100-year-old farm house Thursday night.

The state fire marshal's office said Mrs. Barbara Zaleski, the mother, was talking on the 4-party line when she smelled smoke. She dropped the telephone in her haste to reach 4 children trapped upstairs, and the open line prevented her 3 nearby neighbors from using the telephone to call firemen.

Firemen arrived too late to save Ann Zaleski, 9, Bruce, 5, Martin, 4, and Katherine, 3. Mrs. Zaleski fled uninjured with her 5-month-old son and another son, Jeffery, 10, smashed a downstairs window and leaped to safety. The father was at work.
